THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

THE FIRST VICTIM

TO BE DEPRIVED OF HIS SEAT IN CONGRESS.

THE REPUBLICANS GET A QUORUM

And Rush Through the Contested Case of Jackson vs. Smith—Of Course the Democrat is Ousted—Washington Gossip.

WASHINGTON, February 3.—[Special.]—Reed got his quorum of republicans together this evening and legally unseated Jackson and seated Smith. He had resorted to all kinds of arbitrary rulings in the preliminary proceedings for the past five days, but he feared to have the constitutionality of his decisions tested before the supreme court. And consequently he had the weak, the blind, and the sick hauled to the house in order to register their votes and make a quorum. Although the democrats would not vote the republicans were corralled in the pen and made to vote to sustain their party leader. Smith was immediately sworn in and Mr. Jackson was fired. This increases the republican majority two and makes it that much easier for them to have a quorum present. But it will not stop Mr. Reed's high-handed methods. He will go right on ruling as he has done, and when the final vote comes to oust the next democrat, who will be Pendleton, of West Virginia, he will again corrall another quorum and prevent any legal test of his rulings.

Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, made one of the finest and one of the most humorous speeches ever heard in the house on Reed's action and the contested case this evening. The humor, at Reed's expense, kept the house in a continuous roar of laughter, and made Reed so nervous that he could barely retain his seat. It pierced his thick hide more effectively than any of the denunciations that have been heaped upon him by the angry democrats. It made him the laughing stock, so to speak, of the house and the galleries, and the big man winced perceptibly under the stinging blows dealt him in a humorous vein.

Atlanta has a treat in store for her, for this man will be there on the 13th. He is able, eloquent and witty.

THE GREAT CALAMITY.

The Tracy holocaust has cast a gloom over the whole city. No such dreadful calamity has befallen an administration since that bright June day in 1842, when a large gun on the man-of-war Princess exploded on the Potomac below Fort Foote, and killed the secretary of war and navy, and wounded several other high dignitaries of the government. President Tyler, who was on board, narrowly escaped. The awful catastrophe of today entering the household of the ablest member of Mr. Harrison's cabinet, while the body of the daughter of the secretary of state lies cold in death at his residence on Lafayette square, has sent a chill to the hearts of those connected with the administration. Death has followed death in such quick succession that it would seem as though some dreadful fatality was hovering over all those who have cast their fortunes with the Harrison reign. The death roll in two months has included the sister-in-law of the president, the brother, sister-in-law and son and daughter of the bereaved Blaine, the solicitor-general, one of the most capable men connected with the administration, and the victims of today's conflagration, Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

FORAKER INDORSES REED.

Fire-Alarm Foraker, of Ohio, who is here, said today in speaking of Reed's recent action in the house:

"Oh, we admire Reed in Ohio! We think he is doing just right. The idea of allowing those rebel brigadiers to obstruct public business and to call the speaker hard names, is condemned, not only in Ohio, but in all the north. What a chance there is for some republican to make a reputation on the floor of the house! I don't know that Ohio will be solid for him for president in 1892, but we could do worse."

WILL ATTEND THE BANQUET.

Governor James E. Campbell, of Ohio, is here, a witness before the ballot box investigating committee. In speaking of his proposed visit to Atlanta, to the chamber of commerce banquet, he said tonight that he would be there. He had not yet thought about what kind of a speech he would make, but it would be on the subject of Mr. Grady's letter to him, which, in substance, was:

"Come, and we will show you that we are just like the people of Ohio. We are one people."

He said it was the only invitation he had accepted since he had been elected governor, and he looked forward to the trip with great pleasure.

TALKING POLITICS.

In speaking of the recent scenes in the house, he expressed his opinion that they would have no material effect on either party before the country. "However," he said, with a laugh, "Reed says the majority must rule, and we are the majority. Or perhaps better, 'the saints own the earth, and we are the saints.'"

"What do you think of the political outlook."

"The democrats are absolutely certain to carry this country at the next presidential election."

"And who do you think will be the candidates.'.

"No one can tell. Many changes may take place within three years. Men die and new ones come to the front. It would be foolish to attempt to name a man this far ahead."

"What about Mr. Cleveland?"

"Right now, Mr. Cleveland is the most prominent democrat before the country."

TO TEST JUTE GROWING.

Judge Stewart seems determined to have the growth of jute in this country tested. Also to have a test made of the best machinery for preparing it for the loom and at his request, Uncle Jerry Rusk has promised to ask congress for $25,000 to experiment with. Of course, the test will have to be made in Georgia and now is the time for the Georgia farmers and investors to come to the front.

JUDGE CRISP IS SATISFIED.

Notwithstanding the fact that many of the Georgia papers are proposing Judge Crisp for the next governor of Georgia, there is no possibility of his being a candidate. I have often heard him remark that he would rather remain a member of the house than to have any office within the gift of the people of Georgia, and indeed that is but natural, for Judge Crisp is right now on the next to the top round of the house ladder. His next step will be into the speaker's chair, and that will perhaps be at the meeting of the next congress, which even the republicans concede will be democratic as far as the house is concerned. The speakership of the house is considered next in rank to the vice-presidency and as Judge Crisp is especially fitted for such a position, it is but natural that he would not desire to retire from the house at present. Should the race for speaker next term be made between Judge Crisp and Mr. Carlisle, it would be very close, but it is understood that Mr. Carlisle will not be a candidate again, and that even though Judge Crisp may be opposed, it will amount to but little. Indeed it will be a walk over for the Georgian.

SMITH IS SEATED.

The Republicans Succeed in Getting a Quorum.

WASHINGTON, February 3.—The journal of the house having been read in extenso (at the demand of the democrats) Messrs. O'Ferrall, of Virginia, and McKinley, of Ohio, were upon their feet, the former with a motion to correct the journal, and the latter with a motion to approve that document. The speaker recognized Mr. McKinley, but subsequently, on Mr. O'Ferrall's statement that he was acting in good faith recognized that member, who stated that the journal contained no reference to the fact that the speaker on Saturday last, would not allow him to read evidence in the election case as part of his remarks. The speaker said that that was not exeactly in the form of a ruling, but that the journal would be amended to show that fact.

Mr. McKinley then demanded the previous question on his motion to approve the journal. The vote resulted yeas 154, nays none, and the speaker (following his precedent of ordering entered upon the journal the names of a dozen democrats present and not voting) and declared the previous question ordered.

On the motion to approve the journal the same practice prevailed, the democrats refraining from voting, and the speaker declared a quorum present and the motion carried by a vote of year 158, nays nothing.

Although Mr. O'Ferrell did not rise to claim the floor, the speaker declared that that member was tecognized to proceed to the discussion of the election case.

MR. CRISP DISPUTES THE STATEMENT.

Mr. Crisp said that if the speaker himself declared that the election case was to be taken up he would raise a question of consideration.

The speaker said that there had been an understanding Saturday night that the gentleman from Virginia had the floor.

Mr. Crisp disputed this statement, saying that while there was an understanding as to what length the debate should be, there was no understanding as to when it should be considered.

Mr. Bynum moved to adjourn.

The motion to adjourn was lost; year 120 nays 157, and the speaker declared the question to be on the contested election case.

The usual formalities were indulged in as follows:

Crisp—I raise a question of consideration.

Mr. Speaker—The chair declines to entertain the question.

Mr. Crisp—Then I appeal.

Mr. Speaker—And the chair declines to entertain the appeal.

The formalities having been disposed of Mr. O'Ferrall was recognized to continue his argument in support of the claims of the contestee in the Smith vs. Jackson election case.

O'FERRALL'S SPEECH.

After arguing the case, Mr. O'Ferrall made allusion to the state of affairs with which the house found itself confronted. He did not believe, he said, that the time has yet come, and God grant that it might never come, when the American people would tolerate autocratic power, whether wielded by the president of the United States at the other end of the avenue, or by the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States at this end of the avenue.

"Let us go out," he said, "and let all give ear to the declaration that necessity, the tyrants plea, was offered as the only excuse for this unseenly, unprecedented and unconstitutional proceedings of him, who for a brief season would, preside over the beliberations of this body. He said "brief season" for as sure as the sense of justice still dwelt in the breast of the American people, as sure as citizens of this land were still jealous of their rights and looked with alarm on the slighest encroachment upon them, just so sure would democrats return to power in the fifty-second congress; and there would be no autocrat dictator occupying the speaker's chair. [Applause on the democra tic side.]

THE CONTESTANT'S CLAIMS PRESENTED.

Mr. Greenhalge, of Massachusetts, said that after the diatriabe of a gentleman from Virginia, it might be well to consider the question before the house involving the right of a member to his seat. He then proceeded to present the claims of the contestant, and in conclusion said if the voice of the people was for God, then the voice of God gave to the contestant from the fourth district of West Virginia his right to a place in this house. [Applause on the republican side.]

A HUMOROUS SPEECH.

After speeches by Messrs. Outhwaite, Ohio; Lacey, Iowa; and Moore, of Texas, Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, while not addressing himself especially to the consideration of the election case, made an entirely good humored speech in criticism of the recent rulings of the speaker, which elicited great applause and laughter, as well from his political Nemesis as from his political friends, and the speaker could not himself repress an occasional smile.

THE PREVIOUS QUESTION ORDERED.

The question then recurred on ordering the previous question of the adoption of the report of the committee on elections, and it was ordered—yeas, 166; nays, none. This is the first time since the meeting of congress that the republicans have had a quorum voting, and the result was received with applause. The only absentees on the republican side were Caswell and Wilbur, both of whom are sick.

SMITH IS SEATED.

Four roll calls were required before the vote came finally on seating Smith, the contestant; but at the end he was declared entitled to the seat by vote of yeas 166, nays none, amid republican applause.

Mr. Smith appeared and took the oath of office, whereupon Mr. Springer sarcastically inquired whether this was the proper time to make a motion to adjourn.

With a similar intonation of sarcasm the speaker replied in the affirmative and the house accordingly, at 8:35, adjourned.

GOVERNOR CAMPBELL ON THE STAND

He Pronounces the Signature to the Ballot-Box Contract a Forgery.

WASHINGTON, February 3.—After a rest of a week, the special house committee investigating the Ohio ballot forgery assembled again this morning to continue its inquiry. Representative Grosvenor opened with the statement that since adjournment the committee and himself had been unpleasantly criticised by the Commercial-Gazette because of the conduct of the investigation and because certain witnesses had not been cross-examined; that Governor Foraker had been deprived of cross-examination.

THE GOVERNOR EXAMINED.

Governor Campbell, of Ohio, then took the stand. The chairman handed him the forged paper, and he declared that he had never seen the paper until that minute. That he had never signed it, and never signed his name as it appeared on the paper. He always wrote his name in full, "James E. Campbell." When he sent a short note he occasionally signed "J. E. C." The newspaper accounts of how Wood got the signatures did not account for his signature, but after he heard Wood's statement that he had gotten hold of a letter signed "J. E. C.," he made up his mind that Wood used the initials and filled in the name, making the forgery.

Witness here read editorials from the Commercial Gazette and published accounts of his Germantown speech, denouncing the statements made as lies. The committee here adjourned.

THE TRACY TRAGEDY.

THE AWFUL CALAMITY IN WASHINGTON YESTERDAY.

SEC'Y TRACY'S RESIDENCE BURNED

And Mrs. Tracy, Her Daughter and a Maid Lose their Lives—The Secretary Found in an Unconscious State.

WASHINGTON, February 3.—A terrible calamity visited the household of Secretary Tracy this morning, whereby three persons lost their lives and three others were badly injured. The house is a three-story and basement brick, is situated on I street, between Connecticut avenue and 17th street, and has recently undergone extensive improvements. Persons passing the house at 7 o'clock this morning saw smoke issuing from the front windows, and at once raised an alarm of fire, and police departments responded promptly. The premises were almost concealed by dense smoke which was thickened by a heavy fog which was just lifting. It was soon seen that the house was all ablaze inside, and that the main stairway was burnt, thus cutting off communication with the sleeping apartments on the second and third floors. Several streams of water were played on the flames, and every effort was made to check the fire and to rescue the inmates.

A scene of the wildest confusion ensued when it was known that all members of the family were in the house. The firemen behaved like heroes in the emergency and went through the fire and smoke in searching for them in the different apartments. Mrs. Wilmerding, the secretary's daughter and Miss Wilmerding forced their way through the blinding smoke and jumped from the second story window front. Ladders were raised for them, but in their excitement they failed to see them. Mrs. Wilmerding broke her left wrist and was severely bruised. Her daughter was badly injured about her lower limbs, but broke no bones. They both suffered severely from the shock. They were taken at once to the residence of Dr. Baxter near by and restoratives applied.

MRS. TRACY.

While this sad scene was being enacted in front of the house, firemen were engaged in the sad task of removing other members of the family from the rear.

MRS. TRACY'S DEATH.

Mrs. Tracy endeavored to escape by dropping herself from her bed room window, and in her effort to decrease the distance to the ground, she grasped a narrow stone window sill and lowered herself as far as she was able. Those who saw her in her perilous position shouted to her to hold on, but either she did not hear or her strength failed her, for after thus hanging a moment between life and death, she fell forty feet into an area way. She was immediately taken to the house of a neighbor, by Dr. Rheem, and placed upon a lounge in the sitting room. She was perfectly conscious and did not seem to suffer pain. Occasionally she complained of an oppression in the neighborhood of her heart, and found difficulty in breathing. She talked a while, coughed slightly and then became silent. The physicians looked at each other significantly. Mrs. Tracy was dead. The immediate cause of her death was supposed to be from injuries to her heart, sustained in her fall from the window, which flooded her lungs with blood. Her body was soon removed to the residence of Attorney-General Miller, on Massachusetts avenue.

TWO MORE BODIES.

Almost at the same time two bodies were taken from the burning building. One was the secretary's daughter, Miss Mary, a young lady, and the other was that of the French maid, Josephine. That of the former was found by Chief Parrish lying on the floor in the second story hall at the head of the stairs. The body was not greatly disfigured by the fire. She had evidently died from suffocation. The chief lifted the lifeless body in his arms, and although the staircase was ablaze, he brought it safely out into the street. Of the French maid little is known, save that her dead body was found in her room on the top floor of the house burned beyond recognition. Both the bodies of Miss Tracy and her maid were taken to an undertaker's establishment in the vicinity.

SECRETARY TRACY'S ESCAPE.

Secretary Tracy, himself, had a most miraculous escape, and is now lying in a somewhat precarious condition at the residence of Hon. J. C. Bancroft Davis, on H street, near Eighteenth street. Like all others, he was overcome in his sleep by the smoke which filled the house and rendered him completely helpless. He was discovered in this condition and with considerable difficulty was removed to a place near one of the windows. Cries for ladders were quickly answered, and many willing hands were raised to assist him to the ground. He was at once removed to a neighbor's house, and was soon surrounded by physicians, including Drs. Wales and Ruth. He was suffering from asphyxia. The doctors applied artificial means to induce respiration, and succeeded after an hour's work in restoring him to semi-consciousness. It was then thought safe to remove him to Judge Davis's house. He improved slowly from that time on and soon regained consciousness, recognizing friends, who called to inquire in regard to his condition. Among the first of these were the president, vice-president and several members of the cabinet. The full extent of his terrible affliction is withheld from him for the present. His first inquiry on recovering consciousness, was in regard to the safety of his family. He is gradually gaining in strength, and his friends are very sanguine of his complete recovery.

The house was completely gutted by fire. The walls are standing, but the interior presents a picture of ruin and desolation. The residence of Judge W. S. Cox, of the district supreme court, which adjoins it on the left, was badly damaged by water.

THE CHIEF'S STORY.

Chief Parrish, of the fire department, told his story as follows:

"I paid no attention to the fire when I heard there were people in the house. I felt my way through the smoke to the second floor and found a man in bed in a room. I tried to pick him up, but he was almost too heavy. I managed to drag him into a back room where there was more air and then I broke a window out and called to Low, who was in the alley, to run up a ladder. Then they took the man out and it proved to be the secretary. I couldn't move him any further, for I was exhausted and full up to the neck with smoke. Then I went back into the smoke and fire again and found a young lady, Miss Mary Tracy, they tell me it was—and as I caught hold of her wrists to lift her up the flesh came off her burning hands. She had been burned. I got her out, but she was dead."

Dr. Ruth, at the solicitation of friends, visited the undertaker's establishment and identified Miss Tracy. He made a hurried examination and found she had died from sufocation. Mrs. Tracy was found to have died from rupture of blood vessels.

A gentleman who saw the fire said never in his life did he see or hear of such a sight.

"It seemed," he said, "as though hell had broken loose and sent its firery tongue to the earth. The whole building seemed one seething mass of flames, bursting from every point. Scream followed scream, each one more horrible and blood-curdling than the other, from interior of the building. Only a few people were passing at the time, and they seemed lost and bewildered. The engines soon arrived. You know the rest."

R. C. Turner, footman at the Tracy residence, says he was an eye-witness of part of the fire. He was up and dressed before 7 o'clock, and was prepared to go upstairs to clean the silver. He slept in the basement. "Just as I was starting upstairs," said he, "a colored man rang the bell and told the butler, who answered it, that the house was on fire." The butler ran upstairs and immediately rushed back, shouting: 'My God, the house is on fire.' The entire first floor was in flames. We ran out the front door. Mrs. Wilmerding and her daughter were at the front second story window screaming for help. Both ladies jumped. Neither fell on their feet, but on their sides."

The house of Mr. Ehreems, No. 821 Seventeenth street, itself almost captured by the fire, was thrown open for the reception of the dead and dying. Mrs. Tracy, still alive, was brought in by a couple of firemen and placed on a sofa in the diningroom. Here she lingered for about an hour, fully conscious and apparently suffering but little. It was a little after 8 o'clock when she spat up a little blood, hardly enough to be termed a hemorrhage, closed her eyes, and without a moan ceased to breathe.

The cook, scorched and blackened until she had an Ethopian appearance, but not seriously injured, was next brought in. She was provided with an up-stairs room. Secretary Tracy was the third sufferer to be sheltered under Mr. Ehreem's roof. He was placed on mattresses in the kitchen, whither he was taken through an alley, for it was not deemed proper to bring him through the room in which his wife lay dying.

The president walked over from the white house as soon as he heard of the tragedy. He was weeping as he came out of the house, where the secretary lay unconscious, and where Mrs. Tracy was dying.

THE REMAINS IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

The remains of Mrs. Tracy and Miss Tracy lie tonight in caskets in the center of the east room of the white house, beneath crystal chandeliers, whose light less than a week ago shone upon them as they gayly greeted their numerous friends at the last presidential reception. The deeth chamber is now dimly lighted and is sombre, gloomy and quiet, with no one within it save the dead and one of the doorkeepers, who will keep watch over the remains.

The bodies were brought to the white house about 6 o'clock, by order of the president, who has taken charge of whatever arrangements for the funerel it was necessary to make at present. The caskets are covered with black velvet and the mountings are of silver. Upon each casket are long-leaved palms, with sweet peas and lilies.

ABOUT THE FUNERAL.

No final arrangements for the funeral have been made as yet, and none will be made until arrival of Secretary Tracy's son and General Catlin, his brother-in-law, who are expected on a lato train tonight. The injured are improving. The president visited Secretary Tracy again this evening, and found him regaining his strength, though still hardly able to realize the great loss he has sustained. Tomorrow the president will have the secretary removed to the white house.

Owing to the deplorable calamities which have befallen to the households of the secretary of state and the secretary of the navy, a large number of invitations for receptions, dinners and dancing parties to have been given during the present week by prominent society people, have been recalled. Among them were those of Sir Julian and Lady Pauncefote for Wednesday evening next.

AS TO ITS ORIGIN.

It is believed that the fire originated in the parlor near the open fire place. Whether it originated from a grate or heating pipes is not known, as no one could be found who could tell whether there was fire in the grate last night or not. The frame work adjoining the mantel was where the fire started and it no doubt burned some time before it was discovered. The furnace is in the basement directly beneath where the fire started and hot air pipes leading to the upper stories pass in the rear of the woodwork. The fireman generally think the woodwork was ignited by overheated air pipes.

PREPARING FOR DEATH.

Dick Hawes Sends for a Priest for Spiritual Advice.

BIRMINGHAM, February 3.—[Special.]—Colonel E. T. Taliaferro, counsel for Dick Hawes, today received notice that his motion for a rehearing of the case in the supreme court had been denied. He called at the jail and informed Hawes that his last chance was gone. The prisoner shrugged his shoulders and remarked that he had expected as much. After his counsel left him, Hawes sent for Father Daley, of the Catholic church, and held a long conference with him. He sought spiritual advice and consolation, but made no confession. Hawes looks thin and dejected. He now refuses to see any one except his attorney and the minister, who sometimes calls and prays with him.

A Boiler Explosion.

RALEIGH, N. C., February 3.—[Special.]—The boiler of L. T. McCatter's mills, in Pamlico county, exploded Saturday, wrecking the buildings and causing considerable loss. Strange to say all the employes escaped injury.

TO THE COUNTRY.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMEN ISSUE AN ADDRESS AND

EXPLAIN MATTERS IN THE HOUSE

How the Speaker Has Disregarded Every Precedent and Violated the Constitution by His Remarkable Rulings.

WASHINGTON, February 3.—Mr. Carlisle has prepared for publication the following statement of the present positipn of the democratic members of the house, which is to be signed by all of them:

THE STATEMENT.

The present situation in the house of representatives is so anomalous and the unprecedented decisions of the speaker are so full of danger to the integrity of future legislation, that we consider it our duty to submit a brief statement of the facts in order that the propriety of the course we have taken may be fairly determined.

The house met on the 2d day of December, 1889, and immediately organized by the election of speaker and other officers. On the same day, by resolution of the house, the speaker was authorized to appoint a committee on rules, and the rules of the last preceding house were referred to that committee. The committee, consisting of the speaker himself and four other members, was appointed on the 5th day of December, and on the 9th it made a report authorizing the speaker to appoint all other committees and defining their jurisdiction. The committee on elections, to which was referred all cases involving the rights of members to their seats was appointed on the 9th of December.

WORKING WITHOUT RULES.

Although nearly two months have elapsed since the committee on rules was appointed, it has made no report upon the matters referred to it except a partial report made on the 9th of December, and consequently the house has been compelled to conduct its business without any rules or system except the general parliamentary law as constructed by the speaker. There have been no calendar, no order of business, no fixed time to receive reports from committees, or for the consideration of bills or resolutions, and, in fact, no regular methods, whatever in the proceedings of the house.

The American house of representatives has been during all this time, and still is, so far as rules for its government are concerned, in precisely the same condition as a popular meeting or political convention, in which the chairman and his partisans absolutely control all the proceedings. No measure can get before the house for consideration unless the speaker chooses to allow it to be presented, and the members have no means of knowing in advance what they are to be called upon to discuss or decide. This is the first time in our history that a legislative assembly, or even a public meeting, has attempted to transact business for any considerable period without a regular code of rules, prescribing the order of its proceedings, and the inconvenience and injustice resulting from such an attempt have been forcibly illustrated in the present instance.

THE SPEAKER'S RULINGS.

The speaker has repeatedly, during these extraordinary proceedings, refused to entertain parliamentary motions that have been recognized as legitimate ever since the government was established and when attempts have been made to appeal from its decisions he has refused to submit the question to the house. By his arbitrary rulings, sustained in some instances by less than a quorum, he has subverted nearly every principle of constitutional and parliamentary law heretofore recognized in the house. This personal and partison domination of the house was submitted to, though not without repeated protests, until we became convinced that it was the deliberate purpose of the speaker and his upporters to proceed without rules to oust democratic members whose seats are contested, and admit their republican opponents, whether elected or not.

On Wednesday January 29th, the committee on elections called up a contested election case and the democratic members determined that in the absence of rules it should not be considered if they could prevent it by any proper parliamentary proceedings. Accordingly they raised the question of consideration, demanded the yeas and nays, and on the call of roll refrained from voting. The result was that less than a constitutional quorum voted, but the speaker, in violation of the uniform practice of the house for more than a century, proceeded to count members who were present, but not voting, and declared that the house had decided to take the case up. From this decision an appeal was taken and on motion to lay this appeal on the table the yeas and nays were taken and less than a quorum voted, but the speaker again counted members not voting and decided that the motion was agreed to and his ruling thereby sustained.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A QUORUM.

The constitution of the United States provides that a majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Another clause of the constitution requires each house to keep a journal of its proceedings, and provides that when one-fifth of the members present desire it the yeas and nays shall be taken on any question and entered on the journal. Since the beginning of the government under the constitution more than a hundred years ago, the house of representatives and senate have uniformly construed the first clause of the constitution, quoted above, to mean that a majority of all members elect must be present and actually participate in the transaction of business, and that whenever upon the call of the yeas and nays it appeared from the journal, which is the only official record, that less than a constitution quorum has voted on any proposition, the vote was a nullity and no further business could be done until the requisite number appeared and voted. Every presiding officer of the senate and every speaker of the house, except the present one, has held that when less than a quorum voted on a call of the yeas and nays, no matter how many might be actually present, it was his duty to take notice of the fact and declare that the pending bill or motion had not passed. When a vote is not taken by yeas and nays it is not entered upon the journal, but if any member makes the point that no quorum has voted, the proceeding is a nullity and the vote must be taken over.

The presumption of law is that when nothing appears to the contrary, the proceedings of a legislative body are regular and valid, and, therefore, when the official record does not show that less than a quorum voted, or attention is not called to the fact in such way as to furnish legal evidence of it, the question cannot be made afterwards. Many bills have been passed when there was no quorum voting, and it is equally true that many have passed when there was no quorum, actually present; but this does not prove that the proceedings would have been valid in either case, if the official record had shown the fact. In order to secure certainty and stability in the administration of law, it is a rule in our jurisprudence that when a particular construction of the constitution or a statute has been for a long time acquiesced in, not only by those whose duty it is to execute it, but also by those whose personal and property rights are effected by it. Courts will recognize it as the true construction, and enforce it accordingly.

Even if this were an original question, it would not be difficult to show that the practical construction of the constitution, which has prevailed in the house and senate for over one hundred years, is the correct one. Speaker Reed himself, when in the minority on the floor of the house, stated the true meaning and the true philosophy of the constitution when he said:

"The constitutionality of a quorum is not the presence of a majority of all the members of the house, but a majority of the members present and participating in the business of the house. It is not visible presence, but their judgment and votes, which the constitution calls for."

General Garfield, Blaine, Hawley, Conger, Roberson, and other prominent republicans have taken the same position, and their arguments have never been answered. If any legal or political question can be settled in this country by the long acquisence of jurists and statemen of all parties, certainly this has passed beyond the domain of discussion.

When, therefore, the present speaker repudiated this settled construction of the constitution and decided that when the official record, which the constitution requires the house to keep, shows on a call of the yeas and nays that a quorum has not voted he can count members present and not voting, and thus by his own act, outside of the recorded vote, determine that a measure has passed, We considered it our duty, as part of the representatives of the people to enter our protests in every form available to use under the circumstances. We are not contending for the right of the minority to govern, as the supporters of the speaker have endeavored to make the country believe. On the contrary we are denying the right of the minority to eject from their seats or to pass laws for the government of the people. Under the constitution a majority of members of the house constitute a quorum to do business, and we are simply insisting that less than a majority shall not do business. We are contending that the majority shall take the responsibility which properly belongs to them, and shall come to the house of representatives and vote if they desire to control its proceedings, and we are protesting against their right to carry their measures by counting us when we do not vote.

THE MAJORITY'S ABSURD CLAIM.

The claim of the majority that they have the right to govern the house without attending its rules and taking part in the conduct of its business, is too preposterous to require refutation. It must be evident to anyone who understands the position taken by the democratic minority in the house, that it cannot possibly result in any injury to the country, or in any injustice to the majority. Its only effect will be to compel the republican majority, elected by the people, to assume the responsibility imposed upon them. On the other hand, no one can foresee the evils that may result from the inauguration of the practice of counting votes not cast in order to make a quorum under it the minority of members-elect to the house and senate may pass most tyrannical laws for the appreciation of the people and most corrupt laws for the spoliation of the public treasury. Whether so intended or not, its direct tendency is to break down the barriers heretofore existing for the protection of citizens against the encroachments of power and the spoliation of the treasury by designing limitation which the constitution has wisely imposed upon the legislative department. Constitutions are made to restrain majorities and protect minorities. A majority ruling without limitations or restraints upon its power is pure despotism, and is inconsistent with our system of government.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Whitley's Bar Room Takes an Hour of the General Council's Time.

Hon. A. J. McBride, the junior member from the second word, entered the council chamber just as Clerk Woodward had completed the roll call yesterday afternoon.

Mayor Pro Tem. Hutchison greeted him with a smile, saying:

"Mark Mr. McBride present, Mr. Clerk, and read the report of the committee on minutes."

The report was read, and followed by a batch of petitions.

Madison Buice presented a paper requesting the council to abate a blacksmith shop at 59 West Peters.

"That petition affects a report the fire department committee has in hand," said Mr. Hirsch. "Here it is. J. R. Maxwell petitioned for a building permit at 51 West Peters street. He wanted to put a blacksmith shop there and the petition was referred to this committee. We have examined the place carefully, and report favorably provided Mr. Maxwell raises the chimney ten feet higher with an iron smoke stack, and covers the floor in front of the furnace with sheet iron."

"I hope that report won't be adopted," said Mr. Reinhardt. "Mr. Buice has been to see me about it, and says the shop is not only a nuisance and an annoyance to his family, but places his property in great jeopardy of loss by fire. I suggest that it be recommitted to the committee."

"There ain't any use in that," said Mr. Hirsch, "the committee, with Chief Joyner, has been there three times and has examined the matter carefully. We are satisfied that there is no danger. The truth of the business is, this is a family quarrel—a quarrel between a father-in-law and his son-in-law."

The report wes adopted.

To Open Alabama Street.

Mr. McLendon, chairman of the street committee, arose with a handful of reports.

"Here's the report on the petition to open Alabama street," said he.

Then he made three or four attempts to read the report, but gave it up, saying:

"I'll—I'll ha— have to let some one else read this handwriting."

The paper was passed to the city clerk. Upon it were Mr. Goodwin's pot hooks and to the city clerk they were plain. The report read:

"In view of the importance of the work we recommend that a special committee of three from the general council and two citizens be appointed to confer with the Central Railroad and memoralize the legislature on the subject."

The report was adopted without discussion, and Mayor Pro Tem Hutchison appointed:

From the council—Messrs. Kinyon, King and Hirsch.

Citizens—Joel Hurt and L. DeGive.

The same committee reported adversely upon the petition for a bridge over the railroad tracks from Spring street to Alabama street.

Whitley's Whisky License.

"We have another report here upon Mr. Whitley's petition to transfer his liquor license from one number on Decatur street to another," said Mr. Meador. "That petition has been here several times and we have made an adverse report each time. The people down there don't want that saloon, and we make an adverse report again."

Mr. Howell thought the license ought to be granted.

Mr. McLendon was against the license.

"That committee has given this question a careful consideration," said Mr. Meddlebrooks, "and I think we ought to stand by them and adopt the report."

"I favor a reconsideration of the report," said Mr. Hulsey," and I do so in order that this matter may be freely discussed. For one I desire all the information I can get on the subject, so I may know what to do."

"I signed this adverse report," said Mr. Meador, "because I am against granting that license. I am against it because the people in that block are against it. They don't object to Mr. Whitley, but they have two barrooms in the block now, and don't want any more."

"There are two bars there now," said Mr. Howell, "and I see no objection to a third one. There is no objection to this man Whitley, and the only objection to the barroom is from the men who have the two down there. I don't believe we should enforce a law so that it will be a hardship on one and a benefit to another. That is dangerous legislation. If those people are so opposed to whisky why didn't they object when the other bars were put in. No, this opposition was gotten up by the men who have the saloons down there."

"I don't care," said Mr. Meador, "if there are a hundred saloons in that block, myself, if the people are willing. But they are not willing. I think, too, if you had a barroom on one side of you, another on the other side would not be desirable."

"In your investigation, Mr. Meador," said Mr. Hulsey, "did it look to you like this opposition was from the competition of the other saloons?"

"No, sir. It comes from the people. It is a residence section anyhow," answered Mr Meador.

Mr. McLendon made a second argument against the license.

Mr. Woodward opposed the license and recited his connection with the investigation when he was a member of the police committee.

"If that opposition comes from the competition," said Mr. Hulsey, "I am for granting the license. But if it comes from the people. I am for the report of the committee. I think this is a matter that should be carefully considered. I do not want to impose a saloon upon any community where it is not wanted. Neither do I want to keep a man out of business just because men in the same line want him out."

Mr. Inman wanted to recommit the petition.

Mr. Howell wanted to amend by requiring the committee to consider the advisability of abolishing the two saloons open in the block now.

So did Mr. Haas.

Mr. Hendrix was opposed to granting the license and was opposed to revoking those now open.

Mr Howell spoke again in favor of the license, referring to the work of the police committee in his talk.

"Is the gentleman addressing his remarks to the council?" asked Mr. Meador, interrupting

Mr. Howell, "or is he reading me and the police committee a lecture?"

Mr. Howell disclaimed lecturing reading.

Mr. Kontz wanted the report of the committee adopted, asserting that the members of it knew more about the case than those who had not investigated it.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Hulsey Wants a City Hall.

Mr. Inman, chairman of the finance committee, submitted his report and as he concluded Mr. Hulsey said:

"I take this occasion to call the attention of this body to the approaching sale of the old state house. Just now the city needs a city hall and that building could be made to answer us for the next twenty or twenty-five years. I think we can buy it at the minimum price and twenty years from now, when a new city hall is erected the ground will be worth more than the place will cost us. In this building we are badly crowded. Every office is too small, and we need room. I think it a very fortunate event that that building should be for sale just now. I merely mention this because Mr. Inman, in his report, refers to the bonds to be issued, and if we should decide to buy the state house one advertising and one vote would settle it all. If we do not make this purchase in five years we will have to build a city hall, and it will cost us a half million of dollars. I favor leaving that work for those who will be here when Atlanta has her 200,000 people."

Mr. Inman opposed Mr. Hulsey's proposition.

"But isn't the rental we pay here equal to what the interest would be on the amount of that purchase?" asked Mr. Hulsey.

"I can't answer that question," said Mr. Inman. "The money to come from these bonds must be used in the new waterworks and the sewers."

"But can't the sewers go over a year?" asked Mr. Hulsey.

"The sewers are an absolute necessity," said Mr. Inman, "and not to build them might result in sickness."

"The rental here," said Mr. Howell, "is $3,600 a year, and the interest on that debt would be about $4,000 or a little more."

"Well, I just throw this out," said Mr. Hulsey, "and you can think of it. I am in favor of the purchase myself, and I now predict that if we fail to make it, it will cost the city a half million of dollars."

Mr. Hass opposed the purchase, saying that he could not give up any of his sewer appropriation.

"Then, besides that," said he, "when Atlanta gets a city hall I want it to be a fine, magnificent building.

Mr. Haas's Sewers.

Mr. Haas, chairman of the sewer committee, presented ordinances constructing new sewers. They were:

An ordinance to construct a sewer on Whitehall street from Mitchell street to Hunter street at an estimated cost of $500.

An ordinance to construct a sewer through alleys and private property from Cedar street to West Peachtree at an estimated cost of $700

An ordinance to construct a sewer on Calhoun street, from Edgewood avenue to Decatur street, at an estimated cost of $1,500.

An ordinance to construct a sewer on Hayden and Luckie streets, from Harris to Bartow street, at an estimated cost of $1,000.

An ordinance to construct a sewer along a ravine from Green's Ferry street to Germunden street, at an estimated cost of $2,500.

The ordinances were read one time and ordered printed.

L. DeGive asked to have $454.89 refunded for sewer paid for by him. The petition was referred to the claims committee.

The sewer committee recommended that an eye be put in the Orme street sewer where it passes through Mr. Burton Smith's property, at a cost of $20.

The H. W. Grady Hospital.

The special committee upon the H. W. Grady hospital submitted a report through Chairman Hirsch.

"We recommend," said the report, "that $15,000 be appropriated for the year 1890, and we recommend that the mayor and general council for 1891 appropriate that year $15,000. We further recommend that no liability in excess of the appropriation for this year supplemented by donations of citizens be incurred during this year."

"That differs from the ordinance as introduced," said Mr. Inman. "That was for $10,000 year. This is $5,000 more. If you can show me where the money comes from, I am perfectly willing."

"Oh, we'll get the money somehow, never fear about that," said Mr. Hirsch.

"A hospital is what Atlanta now needs most," said Mr. Hulsey, "and I think we should adopt that report. If we have the courage to make the appropriation we can find the money some how."

"I offer as an amendment," said Mr. Haas, "that we take that additional $5,000 from the contingent fund."

The report, as amended, was adopted.

A City Electrician.

Mr. Reinhardt introduced an ordinance creating the office of city electrician. The ordinance fixed the salary at $1,800 a year, and after saying that he should be appointed by the mayor for a term of two years, defined his powers and duties fully. The ordinance was referred to the ordinance committee.

The City Printing.

Mr. Kinyon, chairman of the committee on printing, submitted a report upon the petition of H. H. Cabaniss, for awarding the marshal and tax sale advertisements to the paper in Atlanta, which upon investigation, is found to have the largest local circulation.

"I have a resolution here touching that report," said Mr. Woodward, "which I desire to submit."

The resolution directed the committee on printing to investigate the local circulation of the various newspapers of the city, and if necessary, to have sworn statements of the proprietors or manrgers as to their legal bona fide local circulation, and that the city marshal be required to place all legal sales and other city advertising in the paper found to have said largest local circulation.

Mr. Hendrix did not favor the resolution.

Mr. King thought the printing should be let by contract, and offered a resolution that sealed bids be received.

The papers were all recommitted to the printing committee, with instructions for the committee to receive bids for the city advertising from THE CONSTITUTION and the Journal and report to the council at the next meeting.

Mr. Hendrix on the School Board.

Mr. Hendrix introduced an ordinance relative to the work of the board of education. It was:

Whereas, by ordinance as codified in section 654 of the city code, full and ample power to provide the requisite buildings to meet the wants of the population so far as they can do so by a prudent and judicious application of the means made subject to their administration and management.

And, whereas, in the report of the finance committee adopted by the council and concurred in by the aldermanic board, $25,000 was appropriated to purchase lots and erect buildings, but with the proviso that before any lot can be purchased or building erected, the general council shall approve the same.

Resolved by the mayor and general council, That said proviso be repealed, and that the board of education have the control of such matter given them by said ordinance.

The Waterworks Report.

Mr. Kontz, chairman of the waterworks committee, presented the papers touching the new waterworks. It was a complete history of all that has been done, and with it he submitted this report:

Be it resolved by the mayor and general council, That the report and recommendations of the committee on waterworks, the committee of citizens, and the board of water commissioners be received and approved, and that said committees in connection with the board of water commissioners be authorized to advertise for bids as recommended in said report, and to have such surveys made as may be necessary, and to take all other steps which are proper and necessary to carry out the recommendations contained in said report. And that they be further authorized to select the place for locating the engines, houses, reservoirs, and the right of way for the pipes and to agree with the parties upon the price for the same, if such agreement can be reached at a reasonable price, and if not, that they be authorized to commence proceedings to condemn such lands as may be needed for the right of way and for the buildings and engines and reservoirs.

Be it further resolved, That no contract shall be finally made until it is approved by the mayor and general council.

A. L. KONTZ, Ch'm,
JOS. HIRSCH,
HUGH T. INMAN,
Committee on Waterworks.

The report was adopted and then Mr. Kontz presented an ordinance authorizing an election to be held on March 8th, 1890, to determine as to the issue of waterworks and sewer bonds. The ordinance provides that the election shall be held under the registration for the last city election, and that all who were registered for that election and who are otherwise qualified as voters shall be authorized to vote at the election.

The ordinance was adopted.

Fire Escapes for Large Buildings.

Mr. Kontz, of the fire department committee, introduced a resolution directing the city attorney to draw an ordinance requiring owners of large buildings to provide them with fire escapes and that it be considered at the next meeting. The paper was referred to the committe on fire department, chief of the fire department, city engineer and city attorney.

Only One Office.

Mr. Woodward introduced an ordinance preventing anyone from holding more than one office or position, either of emolument or honor, within the gift of the general council. It was tabled until the next meeting.

Somel Resolutions.

By Mr. Reinhardt—Placing sidewalk and curbing on several streets in the fourth ward.

By Mr. Middlebrooks—Giving property owners further time to redeem their property bought in by the city at marshal's sale.

By Mr. King—To grade Willow street from Linden out to North avenue.

By Mr. Middlebrooks—That the city attorney report upon the advisability of charging up the cost of sewers already laid and paid for by the city to the owners of the abutting property.

By Mr. Woodward—That the street committee consider the question of extending Hunter street across the Central railroad.

By Mr. Hendrix—To place sidewalk on Cain street from Hilliard to Jackson.

By Mr. Middlebrooks—That the tax committee be empowered to employ clerical help to make three defaulters' dockets.

By the public school committee—That the council approve the action of the school board in purchasing a school lot on Wallace street at a cost of $2,900, and one on Frazier street at a cost of $3,500.

By Mr. Howell—That the fire masters be authorized to sell or exchange the two fire engine houses and lots on Broad street and invest in a central headquarters.

By Mr. Haas—Taking $300 from the contingent fund to pay for an assistant in tax collector's office.

Some Liquor Licenses.

The police committee recommended a retail liquor license to George H. Ruhmann, at 3 East Wall street; G. W. Hall, at 8 Peachtree street; John H. Trenken, at 148 Marietta street.

An ordinance to construct a sewer along old Wheat street from the branch to Hilliard street at an estimated cost of $3,000, was read the second ime and adopted.

An ordinance to construct a sewer from a ravine on Gemunden street to Peters street at an estimated cost of $500, was read the second time and adopted.

HONORING AN ACTRESS.

The Rifles Turn Out in a Body to Greet Patti Rosa.

The Atlanta Rifles turned out in full force last night to greet Miss Patti Rosa, who is one of the few honorary members of that company.

The opera house was packed with people by 8 o'clock last night, and when a few minutes later, the little star made her appearance she was enthusiastically received. The play was under way when the members of the Rifles, each in full dress uniform, filed into the boxes which they had secured for the occasion. Of course they attracted attention and, as a matter of course, they were ever-ready to applaud their fellow member.

They had many opportunities. After two years absence, Patti Rosa returns brighter and merrier—if that be possible—than ever. She appeared last night in a new play, Margery Daw. The play is sufficiently good to enable a lot of clever people to show their cleverness, and this they do. There is singing and dancing, plenty of it, in which Miss Rosa and Mr. Boniface do some exceedingly clever work. Patti Rosa is a favorite in Atlanta and needs no word of comment save that she is better than ever before. A bright and happy sprite is she, and right happy does she make every body who goes to see her.

The company is an excellent one. It is no exaggeration to say that George Boniface, Jr., is one of the very best commedians on the American stage, and his work in Margery Daw is up to his usual high standard. The duets between Miss Rosa and Mr. Bonifaco meet with enthusiastic applause and they were made to respond to encore after encore.

The company is a good one throughout. Mr. Harry W. Rich as a servant, added much to the fun and Mr. John Durre gave an excellent performance of an Italian character part. Mr. Jackson, Mr. Halstead, and Mr. Ashton all deserve mention. Miss Finch and Miss Stewart are sufficiently good to bring out their respective roles.

"Margery Daw" is one of the most enjoyable performances of the year. The same play will be given at the matinee today. Tonight Patti Rosa and her company will be seen for the first time in Atlanta in "Love and Duty."

MR. JOHNSON ANSWERS MR. GANTT.

WATKINSVILLE, Ga., February 3, 1890.—[Special.]—In reference to T. L. Gantt's card, in yesterday's CONSTITUTION, in branding the report of the Solicitor Russell case from Watkinsville as false, I simply state, in justice to myself and your great paper, that Gantt grossly misrepresented the case in denouncing your dispatch as false, without ever investigating the true facts. On reading it in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, he denounces it as false, when the court records of Oconee county say it is true.

NOTES ABOUT TOWN.

Mr. H. M. Patterson, who has the contract for removing the dead from the old Medlock cemetery, near Ponce de Leon springs, will finish his work today when he removes the bodies of the children of Mr. Yarbray, who is a connection of Mr. Medlock's.

Mr. W. Z. Taylor, one of the old members of the police force, and a conductor on the Union street railway, applied for his old place on the police force last night, and was elected. Mr. Taylor has been working on the electric road ever since the first car began running.

A Peachtree Lot.—Mrs. Leila P. Freeman yesterday sold to Mrs. Frances L. Cotting a portion of the Lowry property on Peachtree street, just beyond Baker. The lot fronts seventy feet on Peachtree and runs back 237¼. The price paid for the lot was $6,200.

Mrs. Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

Lively as a Cricket.

Not sluggish as a tortoise, is the condition desirable for the kidneys. Peril impends when they become inactive. Renal diseases at maturity seldom yield to medication. Use, therefore, the wholesome diuretic stimulant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, when inaction of these important secretive organs is early perceived. Biliousness, constipation, malaria, nervous rheumatism remove when the Bitters is used.

GRATUITOUS ADVICE.

This species of advice is not always acceptable, but in many instances much benefit would be derived were it acted upon. No section of the country is exempt from disease. To know the best means of combatting this common enemy, with the least injury to our pockets and tastes, is certainly a great advantage. We must expect Torpid Liver, Congested Spleen, Vitiated Bile and Inactive Bowels, and all prudent persons will supply themselves with Tutt's Pills, which stimulate the Liver, relieve the engorged Spleen, determine a healthy flow of Bile, thus regulating the bowels and causing all unhealthy secretions to pass off in a natural manner. "An ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure." Be advised and use

DEPOSITORY--LOWRY BANKING COMPANY.

The charter granted under the laws of Georgia, authorizes this association to do business in any state of the union or foreign country and to act as agent and trustee for insurance companies, savings banks and other financial corporations and individuals for the purpose of investing their funds in southern real estate mortgages.

It will establish local branch offices in every county for the convenience of its members and for the purpose of loaning its funds. Its plans are liberal to its members and upon the mutual co-operative system, affording a safe and profitable depository for investors and furnishing the borrower money on long time and at low rate of interest. Desirious of meeting the views and wants of all its members, the association will issue stock in four classes as follows:

CLASS A—Payments 50 cents a month, estimated to mature in 8 years. Cost of a loan of $1,000 is $13.50 per month.

CLASS B—Payments 60 cents a month, estimated to mature in 7 years. Cost of a loan of $1,000 is $16 per month.

CLASS C—Payments $1 per month, estimated to mature in 5 1-2 years. Cost for the loan of $1,000 is $20 per month.

CLASS D—Farmers' Class. Either the above classes, (A, B, or C.) Payments for six months in the year, but double the monthly payments, beginning in October and ending in April. This is for the convenience of our farmers who as a rule can best pay in the fall and winter months. The maturity value of all shares is $100.

MACON'S MELANGE.

THE RECORD OF A DAY'S DOINGS IN THE CENTRAL CITY.

The New Port of Entry for South Georgia and Florida, in Which Macon Men are Interested—Other News.

MACON, February 3.—[Special.]—Macon men have just finished building a five mile railroad from St. Augustine to the north beach, called the St. Augustine and North Beach railroad. Cars will commence to run on it by February 15th. The Macon directors and stockholders went to St. Augustine last Friday night and on Saturday made their first trip over the road. The road is built upon creosoted trestling. Already the Maconites have invested $100,000 in the enterprise, and propose to invest $100,000 more, about $40,000 of which will be put in a hotel to be built on the beach where the company owns 268 acres. The hotel will be used as a winter and summer resort. A $7,000 pavilion has already been erected on the beach by the Macon company.

The road will be used as a terminal for the Georgia Southern and Florida road. Passengers can leave Macon at night via the Georgia Southern road at 11:15 and be on the beach at St. Augustine the next morning at 11 o'clock. The company is building piers on the route at twenty-five feet of water. It has made arrangements with H. M. Flagler for transportation facilities over the road to Palatka, and expects with the improvement of the bay to make it a port of entry for south and west Georgia and Florida. The company has secured a mile and a half of water front on the river and ocean, and will make an effort to ship phosphate from this port.

The officers of the road are Macon men, as follows: President, Virgil Powers; secretary, C. W. Hendrick; treasurer and manager, J. N. Hazlehurst; directors, R. H. Plant, Virgil Powers, J. N. Hazlehurst, of Macon; E. B. Waters, of Butler, and Slater of St. Augustine. The Maconites expect the road to be a fine paying investment. They returned this morning from St. Augustine.

The Committee Jubilant.

MACON, Eebruary 3.—[Special.]—Messrs. Morrison, Rogers, and George T. Harris, the committee of the board of trade on the navigation of the Ocmulgee river, returned yesterday from Washington City, where they went last week before the appropriation committee of congress to petition for an appropriation of $50,000 to open up the Ocmulgee for navigation. They were fortunate in getting before the committee, as there were dozens of other delegations longing for this hrivilege, which had been denied them. It was on'y through the influence of Congressman Blount that they were accorded a hearing.

Messrs. Harris and Rogers say they were courteously received by the committee and were given a patient and full hearing. They feel much encouraged at the prospects of obtaining the appropriation. They also went before General Greely of the signal service bureau to petition for the location of a station at Macon. They were received courteously here, and while the present appropriation has been exhausted, the committee feels assured that when a new appropriation is made, a weather bureau will be established at Macon.

The committee was in the house last week during the parliamentary storm over Reed's arbitrary rulings.

Died Suddenly.

MACON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—This afternoon while Bob Bond was sitting on a stone in front of Keating's undertaker shop, he suddenly fell off to the ground, and died in a few minutes, from heart disease. He was a hard-working negro, aged about forty-five years. His sudden death attracted a large crowd to the place where he died.

Suit for $25,000.

MACON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Today a suit was filed in Bibb superior court by Hardeman & Nottingham for $25,000 damages in the name of Mrs. Maggie L. George vs Georgia, Southern and Florida railroad, for killing her husband on December 23, 1889, near Macon. It is alleged that George had a ticket to Bonair, but was put off the train near Macon for some cause, in the night, in a strange country, and while wandering about was run over and killed.

A Small Fire.

MACON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Fire was discovered early this morning in the store of J. H. Shivers, on Fourth street. Several adjoining rooms caught. Loss about $2,000; covered by insurance.

General Gossip.

MACON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Today Messrs. L. A. Mitchell, of Dodge county, W. P. Wilson, of Henry county, E. G. Harris, of Bibb county, filed in Bibb superior court an application for charter for "The Star Lumber Company."

The regular term of the court of ordinary of Bibb county convened today. Petition of J. S. Jones and Staw Rogers, administrators of the estate of C. H. Rogers, to sell land was granted; letters of dismission were granted to E. Sprinz, guardian of Florenze Geyer; letters of dismission were granted to W. H. Felton, Jr., administrator on estate of George C. Brown; application of Miss M. S. McIntyre, administratrix of Mrs. Bridget McIntyre, to sell land was granted.

Mrs. Jacob Reid, an estimable lady, aged seventy-two years, died last night, and will be buried tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at Jones chapel.

The following teachers in the Bibb public schools have resigned: Miss Eva Bradly, of Newcastle school, rasignation to take effect February 15th; Miss Lydia Dickinson, of Gilesville school, resignation to take effect February 8th; Ella Barksdale, of Hazel street colored school, resignation to take effect February 14th.

Rapid Transit for The Constitution.

The enterprise of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will be appreciated by THE CONSTITUTION'S subscribers.

By the new schedule of that road THE CONSTITUTION will now reach Macon at nine o'clock in the morning, Brunswick at 5:15 p. m., Jacksonville, 6:50 p. m., and the Georgia Midland's connection at McDonough will carry the paper to Columbus at ten in the morning—making all these places on the day of publication.

It is a splendid stroke of railway enterprise, and goes far toward giving the rapid transit for THE CONSTITUTION so long desired by its subscribers in those localities.

How History Is Written.

It is almost impossible to pick up any history of our country without finding it stated that we are indebted to the Puritans for religious liberty and the great political ideas upon which our institutions are founded.

Even such dignified historians as Bancroft have taken this line. We are told that the Puritans came here for freedom to worship God, and Bancroft goes so far as to say that they never persecuted for opinion's sake.

So much for history as it is written. Now for the facts. The Puritans for many years persecuted the Quakers, Anabaptists, and people of other religions. None but members of their church had any rights under their government. Where, then, did our American idea of freedom of opinion originate? When the matter is sifted down it will be found that the credit must be given to the southern colony of Maryland. This colony as early as 1649, passed an act containing the following words:

"Whereas, the enforcing of the conscience in matters of religion hath frequently fallen out to be of dangerous consequence in those commonwealths where it has been practiced, and for the more quiet and peaceable government of this province, and the better to preserve mutual love and amity among the inhabitants, no person within this province, professing to believe in Jesus Christ, shall be in any way troubled, molested or discountenanced for his or her religion, or in the free exercise thereof."

This was the first recognition of freedom of conscience in America. Gradually this luminous idea worked its way southward, and last of all northward, converting the grim Puritans, who by that time were weary of persecution and conquest.

Now, this is genuine history. It does not detract from the admirable virtues really possessed by the Puritans, but it strips them of their claims as the pioneers of religious liberty and freedom.

With this sample of history as it is written before us we should be reconciled to the false histories of our late war now flooding the world. For a generation or longer the historian will picture the north as humane and just in the conduct of our civil struggle, and he will give the south just the opposite character. But this cannot last. In the course of time everything will undergo a review and be rewritten, as was the case with the Puritans and the little colony of Maryland. Truth crushed to earth only to rise again, is a familiar figure, and a true one. Illustrations of it crop out all through the past.

The thoughtful southerner and confederate may calmly disregard the false history now being manufactured by our enemies. Sooner or later earnest writers searching for the truth will find it, and the true story will come out. We are simply going through an era of perversion of facts similar to that which the northern and southern colonies went through in the remote past. It will all come out right in the end.

Work for Our Local Historians.

Secretary Barnett, who has just died at the age of four-score years and ten, had outlived all the contemporaries of his youth. He was an eye-witness of the most stirring scenes in the history of the state, and was the personal friend of nearly all the great men who have made the name of Georgia illustrious.

It is probable that he was too busy a man to keep a journal, and two intent on his official duties to write out his reminiscences, but what a rich and interesting contribution he could have made to the history of the state.

He knew all the prominent men, he knew all the politicians, both great and small; he knew all the inside business that is a sealed book to the people; he knew the motives of men, and all the causes that led up to the various events that have made the history of Georgia during the past seventy years.

What a pity that he never found time, devoted as he was to his official duties, to write his reminiscences and his estimates of the public men that leaped into popularity under his eyes and disappeared. He was a judicious observer, and while he had the strongest convictions, he managed to make himself indispensable to all the parties that have had power in Georgia. His sense of fairness, the judicial impartiality of his mind, would have given a rare touch to his reminiscences.

As it is, a great deal of important information dies with him—information that would be an invaluable addition to the history of the state. He could have given the details of many events of the first importance, and his personal reminiscences of Georgia's public men would have made a most charming history.

It is to be regretted that our public men, as they grow old, do not seek the consolation as well as the reputation that is the portion of those who think enough of posterity to tell it something of its predecessors and something of the events with which they were connected. All this is more important in the long-run than any of the immediate results of politics.

We venture to suggest here that every county in Georgia ought to have its special chronicles and provide for the preservation of its history. There is no duty more important, and this fact is clearly recognized in New England, where even the towns have their historians. There is no state richer in historical material than Georgia, and it is to be regretted that the counties have not taken steps to have this material preserved in permanent form.

Wilkes county, we are glad to say, is more fortunate in this respect than other counties. An accomplished woman—Miss Eliza A. Bowen, is writing the local history of that remarkable commnnity, and the Washington Gazette is giving it to the public in installments. It is a noble work, nobly planned, and it will be an invaluable piece of history when complete. There cannot be an Eliza Bowen in every county, but each can do something in the way of preserving its traditions and its local history.

Welcome Visitors.

The coming southern trip of the New England journalists, in response to the invitation of Mr. Frank A. Heywood, of the engineer corps of the Boston and Albany railroad, is an important event.

Mr. Heywood is an old newspaper man himself, and is a warm friend of the south. It is his idea that the people of the two sections should know each other better. It is his belief that the citizen of Boston is as much at home and as welcome in Richmond or Atlanta as he is in Worcester. He believes, too, that when these sensible New Englanders come down south and mingle with our people, they will see that we are just as much interested in good government and material prosperity as anybody else. Our visitors will see that while we honor the memories of those who died for the confederacy, our faces are turned toward the future, and we are pushing to the front in the march of progress.

It is well to have these kindly and keen-witted strangers from the far north come among us. They cannot fail to see that our people have been misrepresented, and when they return home they will, like true journalists, print the facts.

The day is coming when the north and the south will understand each other and be united in the bonds of brotherhood. To this happy result just such excursions as Mr. Heywood has inaugurated will contribute more than any other one thing that could be named.

The Washington Horror.

The terrible holocaust in the mansion of Secretary Tracy at Washington will send a thrill of horror through the land.

The story in our telegraphic columns loses none of its terror by its condensation. Death comes in many awful shapes, but when it comes in a chariot of flame it is most appalling of all. The Tracy calamity seems inexplicable. That several sleeping members of a family in a well built and well regulated mansion should be suffocated to death, at comparatively a late morning hour, when people should be astir, seems impossible.

But it is useless to discuss the improbability of such a thing—it has actually happened. How shall such disasters be guarded against? In this case it was not a matter of exits. If there had been numerous exits on every floor the Tracys would still have been suffocated. The dense fog would have prevented the discovery of the fire until it got under its fearful headway.

Under all the circumstances this will rank as one of the most shocking events in our recent history. The only comforting thought that suggests itself to the public mind is that such an occurrence must necessarily happen under peculiar conditions that will very rarely exist. Just such a case has not been reported in years, and will doubtless not be reported again in a long time.

THE republicans are said to be somewhat restless, but they will carry out their plan all the same.

SPEAKER REED will undoubtedly lose his grip. He is in the same category with other ambitious men who have committed suicide.

DOES little Mr. Billy Chandler remember that L. G. Dennis, of Alachna county, Florida, made a confession? Does he suppose that confession has been destroyed?

CZAR REED means Cæsar Reed. It will be Sueezer Reed when the democrats get the grip on him.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

EXPLORER STANLEY refuses to lecture or talk about his travels. He cannot be blamed for his silence. It would cost him exaclly $200,000 to open his mouth. This means that his publishers have offered him that sum for a book, and he is under contract to put all his good thimgs into it.

ALFRED BROWN, a negro who attempted to practice voodooism in Pennsylvania, was promptly arrested and sent to prison for three years. This treatment should be resorted to in the south.

ANOTHER Pennsylvania town has lost its bottom. The other day a portion of the town of Plains dropped out of sight, carrying several houses. The people in that region should move to Georgia, where they will, at least, have the solid ground under them.

THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS tells a queer story about Congressman Bland, of Missouri. It is said that Bland was determined to have Tilden inaugurated, and that he offered to have 400,000 armed Missourians in Washington on the occasion to put Mr. Tilden in office by force. Mr. Bland is of a fiery nature, but it is to be doubted whether he ever deliberately planned such a big job.

THIRTY-FIVE NEW MEN.

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS MEET AND ELECT NEW MEMBERS.

Thirty-Five New Men Elected to the Regular Force, and Thirty New Supernumeraries —The Regular Force Increased.

Thirty-five new patrolmen!

The Atlanta police force was increased last night.

The police commission convened last night with Commissioner Lester in the chair. After the regular business the following new orders were issued:

First. Authorizing the increase of the force to one hundred regular men outside of the detailed officers.

Second. Authorizing the purchase of seven new horses for the use of the department, and authoring the increase of the mounted force from eight mounted men to fourteen.

Third. Authorizing the chairman to purchase an open patrol wagon, similar to those in use in Chicago and New York.

Fourth. Appointing a committee, composed of Commissioners Lester and Brotherton and Chief Connolly, to contract for the purchase of new uniforms for the department.

The board began the consideration of applications to the vacancies in the forces. There were thirty-five vacancies and over one hundred applicants.

As eary as 6 o'clock the hall was crowded, and when the doors were opened to admit the applicants there was a grand rush for the chief's room.

Most of the supernumeraries were advanced to the position of regulars and new men were elected to the supernumerary list. Following is the list of men who were elected from the supernumerary ranks to the regular force:

G. W. Robbins, F. C. Helms, J. B. Davis, T. J. Tyson, A. Y. Owings, C. M. Meehan, George Steint, M. W. Mewberu, B. F. Smith, J. N. Lewis, J. L. Wooten, Thomas Taylor, J. T. Etheridge and R. G. Wilson—14.

Four men who had been on the force but resigned were elected. They were Cleone Gordon, W. Z. Taylor, J. B. Hudson and J. A. Martin—4.

The board took up the list of new names and elected the following regular officers from it:

Brown, Thompson, Baker, Powell, Grady, Moncrief, Newman, Harris, McCalla, Bridwell, Thrasher, Bailey, Daniel, Martha, Bowie, Wright and Kolb—17.

The supernnmeraries who were not elected regulars were advanced in the ranks. The following is the list:

H. E. Jones, R. L. Evans, W. W. Ammons, E. J. Florence, M. L. Holt, A. J. Tippin, A. M. Verner, H. H. Marshall, S. C. Golden, R. B. Groves, I. T. Henry, W. W. Edwards and H. W. Carpenter.—13.

The new men who were elected to the supernnmerary force were:

J. W. Varnell, N. R. Heard, R. B. Williford, W. C. Dukes, G. P. Bevins, Vandyce Long, T. W. Long, O. L. Hart, C. A. Parks, B. T. Wilson, W. J. McDaniels, Rosie Farris, G. W. Patterson, W. R. Jones, A. M. Dodd, E. L. Jett and A. D. Brannon—17.

Chief Connolly issued the following order:

"All new men who have been elected to the force will report at police headquarters at 8:30 o'clock a. m., tomorrow, February 4th, 1890, to be sworn in as policemen."

The meeting then, at 10:15, adjourned to meet next Monday at 7:30 p. m.

THEY WERE DRUNK.

And the Whole Family Is Locked up in the Station House.

About 8 o'clock yesterday evening there was a call for the patrol wagon on Peters street. At the store from which the call was sent in, there was a large crowd collected around the officers who had in charge a woman, her three children, and a negro woman who was acting as nurse.

They were drunk.

At least the woman, nurse and one of the children, a little fellow about five years old, were.

They were a part of the Sams family from Talbot county, on their way to settle in North Georgia. They arrived in town about 2:30 o'clock, and Mr. Sams procured a quart of corn liquor and proceeded to fill up. In a short time he got perfectly happy, and giving his wife his purse and the bottle, went off to see the town.

No sooner had Papa Sams left than Mrs. Sams, feeling the fatigue of the journey, refreshed herself and the nurse from the bottle. The little boy cried for some and was given the bottle, too.

Before long Mrs. Sams was drunk in the wagon, the nurse was drunk on the sidewalk, and the little boy was drunk about a square away from the wagon when the officers found them, and gathering them together rang for the black Mariah.

About a half hour afterwards, the old man was brought in from Decatur street, and getting his purse from his wife, gave bond for their release until this evening.

They all went off and it is presumed, found a place to sleep and sober up.

AN ATLANTA YOUNG MAN

Elected to the Adjunct Professorship at Athens.

Mr. Wm. H. Pope, an Atlanta young man, is to fill the adjunct professorship of Latin and Greek at the State university.

This is the position left vacant by the resignation of Professor A. L. Franklin a few days since.

Mr. Pope is one of the most promising representatives that Atlanta has sent to the university in years, and the deserved compliment paid in his selection to fill this place will give pleasure to a great many friends in Atlanta.

He graduated with high honor in the class of 1888, and is just now completing a post-graduate course in law.

He will graduate in law this summer, and fill the duties of his new position in addition to his studies.

Professor Franklin, it will be remembered, was a remarkably young man for so responsible a position. The experiment seems to have yielded most satisfactory results, for Mr. Pope himself is barely twenty years of age, and was selected from amongst a number of applicants to fill the position.

MR. YOUNG GARRETT DEAD.

He Passes Peacefully Away at His Home, on Washington Street.

Mr. Young Garrett died yesterday afternoon, after a week's illness.

Mr. Garrett was about fifty-two years of age, and had long been connected with the Finley Furniture company, first as bookkeeper, and later as manager.

He will be buried from his residence, 248 Washington street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, at Oakland cemetery, the following gentlemen acting as pallbearers:

Messrs. L. H. Hall, A. Satsky, Phil Dodd, W. D. Woodson, Earnest F. Clark, A. C. Briscoo and J. J. Meador.

Mr. Garrett leaves a loving wife and many friends who will mourn his death.

"Can't Do Without It."

From the Lumpkin Independent.

THE CONSTITUTION is a great newspaper—in all of its departments the peer of any in the country. Without it, we, in common with contemporaneous "bob-tail weeklies," would be as a ship without a rudder. When we can neither fill up with its news nor rehash its paragraphs, we shall be content to pour hot shot into it. Of course this last resort will not affect the serenity of THE CONSTITUTION, but then, notwithstanding his supreme indifference, it affords the average small boy infinite gratification to prod the elephant once in a while

Death of Mr. Richardson.

Mr. John G. Richardson died last night at 10 o'clock, at his home on Orme street. For the past two weeks Mr. Richardson has been suffering from a complication of pneumonia and heart disease, and it was the latter trouble which finally proved fatal. For more than twenty years the deceased gentleman had been a trusted employe of the firm of Hunnicutt & Bellingrath. His devotion to the interests of his firm had secured for him the respect and confidence of his employers, and his genial nature had secured him the love of everybody with whom he came in contact.

The notice of the funeral will be made tomorrow.

To Be Buried From Trinity.

The funeral services ovor the remains of Mrs. Thomas Ledbetter will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from Trinity church.

Rev. Dr. Heidt and Rev. D. Cleveland will conduct the services. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

The body will be taken to Smyrna, Ga., for interment on the 11:40 train.

Funeral of Willie Barnett.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, occurred the funeral of little Willie, son of Dr. E. H. Barnett, who died last Saturday night.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. B. Strickler, who spoke feelingly of "The Home Above" to which Willie had gone. After the services were concluded, the body was carried to its last resting place in Westview, followed by a large concourse of friends.

Willie was only thirteen years old, and was an exceedingly bright child. His parents have the deepest sympathy of all who knew him in their hour of affliction.

TO HELP INVENTORS.

A NEW INDUSTRY TO BE ESTABLISHED HERE.

Atlanta's Growth in Respect to Spring Motors—Brosius, Clayton, and now Another —Professor Hopkins Talks.

Atlanta is almost overrun with inventors and inventions just now.

The latest is the spring motor for sewing machines and other light machinery.

First it was the Brosius, then the Clayton and then lastly one so new as to be without a name. This is the motor which Mr. Samuel W. Goode has brought out, and which he proposes to manunfacture on an extensive scale in Atlanta.

Mr. Goode is perfecting plans for the erection of a large manufacturing establishment, where not only his new motor will be turned out, but also a number of other valuable inventions.

It is designed to make the factory a kind of variety works, thoroughly equipped for the manufacture of all kinds of articles which require expert workmanship. It will be particularly devoted to the putting upon the market of meritorious inventions, the owners of a number of which are already in negotiation with Mr. Goode and his associates.

The plans have not yet been fully developed for the new enterprise, but it is probable that it will be a stock company, with a large capital.

Besides the new motor, the manufacture of which is to be the primary object of the factory, it is very probable that the King Safety Signal a description of which, as made at the technological school, appeared in THE CONSTITUTION some time ago, will also be a leading feature of manufacture.

Mr. King is now in Atlanta for the purpose of conferring with Mr. Goode, and the matter will be discussed today.

Mr. Goode is very much interested in the bringing out of these inventions. He is devoting considerable time to the plans for the new factory.

Only two small crown cog wheels are used. One of these wheels has one more cog than the other, and they are so joined, the faces touching on such an angle as that a wonderful speed and economy of power is attained. The machine is very small and light. It is provided with a series of springs instead of one, and all of these, in number as many as desired, can be wound up at the same time.

Dr. Hopkins was greatly interested in the little motor, and expressed the belief that it was, in all probability, the most perfect application of spring power yet produced.

Since his connection with the technological school, as its president, Dr. Hopkins has been what he calls, the "father of inventions." Everybody who has, or thinks he has, something that will revolutionize the world's workings, carries his model to Dr. Hopkins for approval.

Several gentlemen were in his office yesterday discussing the new spring motor, among them Dr. Hopkins. Dr. Hopkins has seen and examined the model, which is now in the hands of Mr. Edison's agent at Washington, and is thoroughly acqnainted with its mechanism.

"This motor," said Dr. Hopkins, "applies a mechanical principle which, though not new, is very rarely applied. In fact, I don't remember to have ever seen it in operation until I examined it in this motor. The principle is sound and reliable, and its simplicity is astonishing, when the amount of power and speed is considered.

"I believe I have saved many a poor fellow from wasting weeks of labor on useless and profitless schemes," he said during the talk about motors and things yesterday.

Dr. Hopkins was instrumental in the perfection of Mr. King's safety signal, which was made at the technological school last summer, and which, it is probable, will be manufactured in Atlanta.

Mr. Goode has also just secured letters patent on an improved steel axle.

GEORGE WASHINGTON DEAD.

A Driver Who Has Been to More Funerals Than Any Other Darkey in Atlanta.

George Washington is dead.

There is a darky who has driven in more funeral processions than any other man in Atlanta. He has driven for rich and poor, white and black, through rain and snow and sunshine. The road to Westview or Oakland was as familiar to him as his little office at the stables or his room at home. He knew every inch of street and sidewalk from the depot to Southview.

From his place in a funeral procession he has watched the houses build along the roads to the cemeteries, and streets extended, and Atlanta grow to be a great city.

And today the old darky goes in his last funeral procession—his own funeral.

He is pretty well known in Atlanta as a driver for Brady & Miller. He was esteemed as an industrious, honest darky.

He died yesterday afternoon at his home on Wheat street, after a short illness, and will be buried at Southview this afternoon.

The funeral services will be held, beginning at two o'clock, at Big Bethel church.

The coffin and carriages will be furnished free of cost by Brady & Miller, who feel a real loss in his death.

Mr. H. M. Patterson, the undertaker, will furnish the hearse.

"His funeral," said Mr. Patterson last evening, "shan't cost his family one cent. We owe him that much, for he was a faithful and honest servant."

IT WAS HIS BIRTHDAY,

And Mr. P. Holcomb was Remembered by the Western Union Operators.

Mr. P. Holcomb, chief operator of the Western Union Telegraph company, was last evening the recipient of a birthday souvenir from the members of his staff.

The presentation was a handsome fruit-stand in silver and venitian glass, and bore the following inscription:

To P. Holcomb, Esq., Chief Operator with the (73) Western Union Day Force. Atlanta, Ga., February 2d, 1890.

It was accompanied with the following address:

ATLANTA, Ga., February 2, 1890.—P. Holcomb, Esq., Chief Operator: We feel deep pleasure in availing ourselves of this, the anniversary of your birth, to presen you with a small token of our esteem and regard for you, both as our chief and as a man.

We earnestly express the hope that you may long be spared to adorn the position which you at present so worthily fill. Some of us have known you for many years, others for shorter periods, but all are unanimously of the opinion that for fairness, courtesy and benevolence our chief stands pre-eminent. We sincerely trust that you may enjoy very many happy returns of the day, together with all the blessings of the new year upon which we have just entered.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

Those who were fortunate enough to attend the public meeting and installation of officers at Georgia Lodge, No. 1, Independent Order of Good Templars last night at the Good Templars' hall, 9½ East Alabama street, were entertained with one of the most delightful programmes that has been given in Atlanta this season. A large and appreciative audience listened to the following beautifully rendered programme:

Address—Rev. M. J. Cofer, grand chief templar of Georgia.
Duet—Miss Edith Balmer and Master Arnold Balmer.
Reading—Miss Mattie Pelham.
Solo—C. W. Sampler.
Recitation—Miss Vista Black.
Address—W. N. McNeal.

Addresses were also made by A. A. DeLoach, W. G. Whidby, and others.

After the rendering of the above programme, the following officers were installed by D. G. C. T., B. B. Smith:

Chief templar, J. W. Hayes; vice-templar, Mrs. M. E. Foster; secretary, C. L. Sneed; assistant secretary, Miss Cassie Foster; financial secretary, J. W. Kreeger; treasurer, James G. Thrower; chaplain, DeWitt C. Ingle; marshal, B. B. Smith; deputy marshal, Miss Lottie Kennedy; guard, Chas. Cook; sentinel, W. C. Klaitz, Jr.

Her Husband Had Left.

Yesterday evening about dark a woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Donovan, applied at police headquarters for shelter for the night, claiming that she was in destitute circumstances. She said that she had been to Washington, D. C., and when she came to Atlanta found that her husband, whom she had left at work, was off in south Georgia hunting for a living. She claims to have relatives living in Oak Grove, where she will go today, and she only wanted prosection for the night.

A Horse Race Yesterday.

Quite a crowd of spectators gathered at the Piedmont park track yesterday evening to witness a race between two local horses, Mr. Moran's "Atlanta," and Mr. Camp's horse "Gainesville." Gainesville showed his superiority in the quarter dash, and won the $200, beating Atlanta by nearly fifty yards. About $1,000 changed hands on the race.

To Furnish the Parsonage.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Grace church are striving to furnish their parsonage, and next Tuesday evening will have open doors at the church. Professor Chase Lane will lecture on "Lessons not learned in books," and a treat is in store for those who attend. Tickets can be secured at Boles & Bruckner's at twenty-five cents each.

Nothing Done in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, February 3.—Immediately after the reading of the journal, in the senate, Mr. Cameron announced the recent affliction in the families of two members of the cabinet, and moved an adjournment, which was agreed to unanimously.

THE COUNTERFEITERS.

JUDGE SPEER PASSES SENTENCES UPON THEM.

The Piney Island Gang Will Live in the Ohio Penitentiary for Some Years to Come—Other News.

SAVANNAH, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—James Moran, one of the Piney Island gang of counterfeiters, was convicted in the United States circuit court today. Mrs. Schotky, wife of one of the gang, testified that she had seen her husband and Moran working with molds and making bogus dollars and nickels. She urged her husband not to have anything to do with the counterfeiting, but Moran had more influence with him than she had. She testified that she saw Moran bury a kettle and some molds in the beach sand at low tide.

WHERE THE MATERIAL WAS OBTAINED.

The source from which Moran obtained twenty pounds of antimony and a quantity of plaster of paris was traced. Ground glass was mixed with the melted antimony to make the coins ring. Dollars were chiefly made and put in circulation along the coast from Fernandina to Brunswick and Darien.

Moran was sentenced tonight by Judge Speer to pay a fine of two thousand dollars and serve seven years in the Ohio state penitentiary, at Columbus. Shotky, who pleaded guilty, was sentenced to six years' imprisonment with the same fine. Booth, another of the gang, is on trial. Piney island, the band's rendezvouz, is on the coast of Camden county, near the Florida line.

SPORTING IN AUGUSTA.

A Fight to the Finish at the Opera House—A Cocking Main.

AUGUSTA, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Considerable interest is felt in sporting circles in a pugilistic encounter to take place at the opera house tomorrow night between Professor Layton, of Charleston, and Jack Brady, of Boston. The first programme was for a prize fight to the finish in Hamburg, across the river; but it has since changed to a sparring match at the opera house, with four-ounce gloves. These sparring and wrestling matches in the south are usually fakes, and tomorrow night's contest may be one; but the men themselves and their backers promise a hard fight, fake or no fake. They will probably catch a good crowd.

A COCK FIGHT.

Speaking of Hamburg and fights recalls the great cocking main which is to begin in Hamburg on the 12th inst. It will be between Sidney Holt, of Graham, N. C., and Dick Anderson, of Edgefield, S. C. Each side will show twenty-one birds, and the fights will be $25 each, with $250 to the winner of the odd. It is said that Mr. Anderson is only nominally a party to the fight, and will fight with birds belonging to a Georgian.

MR. JOHN INMAN'S ANSWER

To the Charges Brought Against Him by the Tennessee Company,

NEW YORK, February 3.—The answer of John H. Inman to the action recently brought against him by the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company for the profits he made when the Tennessee company bought the Pratt Coal and Iron company of Alabama in 1886, was filed today. Mr. Inman specifically denies all the charges brought against him. From his answer it appears that the Pratt property is the most valuable property owned by the Tennessee company, and Mr. Inman claims that he and his associates would be better off today if the sale by the Pratt company of its property to the Tennessee company had never been made. Instead of $4,000,000 represented by the bill, his whole profit only amounted to $145,000. He expresses a willingness to rescind the whole trade. It also appears that the amount of outstanding stock of the Tennessee company in 1886, was $3,000,000, the market value of which, at that time was only about fifty cents on the dollar, and that then existing stockholders received $3,000,000 of the increased stock. The stock is selling today at 85½.

THEY WANT THEIR MONEY.

Depositors of the Lenox Hill Bank Gather About the Building.

NEW YORK, February 3.—As early as 10 o'clock there were at least two hundred angry depositors of the Lenox Hill bank around that structure. The fact that the bank statement of the bank examiner was not forthcoming as promised, caused additional discontent. Many of the depositors formed themselves into groups and harangued each other on the situation. The all-round inclination seemed to be that the depositors must act. In a short time three distinct factions called as many special meetings, but after a while it was thought better to hold but one meeting. The depositors today are not at all as good humored as they have been on preceding days, and hopes have now descended to despair. Broker Pell left Ludlow street jail at 10 o'clock for the United States building to await the result of hunt of his friends for bail or a motion ro have it reduced. Up to 10:30 o'clock state of things around the Sixth National and Equitable banks wa3 practically the same as during the past few days.

THE TIMES WEAKENS,

And Compromises With Mr. Parnell in His Libel Suit.

LONDON, February 3.—The trial of the suit for libel brought by Mr. Parnell against the Times, was to have begun today, but when the case was called counsel announced that the suit had been compromised, the Times paying Mr. Parnell $5,000 damages. The withdrawal was also announced of the action brought by Mr. Campbell, Mr. Parnell's private secretary, against the Times for damages for statements affecting Mr. Campbell, made by Mr. Webster, counsel for the Times, in his opening speech in the case of O'Connell against Walter, proprietor of the Times, and for charges made against the plaintiff in an editorial published by the Times in July, 1888. The court room was crowded. Mr. Parnell was present. He looked well. The announcement of the results of actions caused a sensation in the court room. It is stated that the Times will pay Campbell £200 damages, besides meeting all the costs.

FIRE IN COLUMBUS.

The Drying Room of the Eagle and Phenix Mill Ablaze.

COLUMBUS, Ga., February 3.—[Special.] There was a fire at 8 o'clock this morning in the drying room on the third floor of the dye house of the Eagle and Phenix mill. It is supposed to haye been caused from friction of the elevator journal. Loss, $6,000 on the building, stock of yarn and dye stuffs. Insurance, $50,000, all in Mill Mutuals, of Providence, R. I.

WAYCROSS IN MOURNING.

Death of Dr. A. A. Carswell, Mayor of the City.

WAYCROSS, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Dr. A. A. Carswell, a prominent physician and mayor of this city, breathed his last tonight surrounded by his family and a number of friends. Early this evening it was announced that the doctor could not survive the night and his residence has been besieged with anxious friends until 11:25 o'clock, when his spirit took its flight.

Choked by a Capsule.

AMERICUS, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—A little daughter of Mr. Greene, a farmer living in Lee county, some twelve miles from Americus, met a terrible death a day or two since. The child's mother called her in from play to take a quinine capsule which the little one in swallowing accidently got lodged in the windpipe and was choked to death in a few seconds.

The Grip in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.] The grip has attacked Washington. There are a few severe cases. There were sixteen cases in the convent school of St. Joseph, but the sisters take such great care of the girls that the cases are very mild, and recover rapidly.

ATLANTA IN BRIEF.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY IN A CONDENSED FORM.

Items of Interest About Atlanta and Atlanta People—Street Scenes and Gossip—Leaves from the Reporters' Notebooks.

Killed a Skunk.—Chief Joyner saw his first skunk yesterday, and killed it. The striped [illegible] was caught in a rat-trap at Bairbanks's Broad street place.

Quite Ill in Atlanta.—Mr. Brack C. Fuller, an old Atlanta boy, who has been in Dallas, Texas, practicing architecture quite successfully, is now at his father's, Captain W. A. Fuller, very sick. He returned to Atlanta some two months ago on account of his health, which has not improved any.

Will Elect Tonight.—The Gate City Guards will hold an election at their armory tonight. Captain A. C. Sneed has already been chosen by the company and his election is only a matter of form. An election for lieutenants has not yet been ordered. The filling of these positions will doubtless be provided for at once after tonight's election.

Lecture at the Library.—The next lecture in the library course will be a rare treat. Dr. Sherrill has prepared a new and very interesting lecture on Erasmus. It will be an intellectual feast to all who hear it. Miss Emma Hahr will surely play, and Mr. Burbank will sing. With such a combination of culture and talent, a brilliant entertainment is sure.

Mr. Harman Here.—Mr. Charles Harman, the newly appointed general agent of the Central here, took charge of his Atlanta office yesterday. His position as general western agent of the Georgia associated traffic lines, headquarters at Cincinnati, is to be filled by Mr. Carl H. Harvey, late contracting agent at Cincinnati for the Missouri Pacific.

An Excellent Charity.—The regular monthly meeting of the ladies interested in the Home for the Friendless will be held next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the parlor of the Young Men's Library. The Home for the Friendless is one of Atlanta's most worthy charities, and every lady who takes an interest in the good work is requested to be present.

Captain Carter's Readings.—Captain William Page Carter's readings at the Young Men's Christian association hall this evening, will doubtless be an enjoyable occasion.

Captain Carter reads from his own composition, and as an elocutionist is one of the most delightful who have appeared in Atlanta. Those who go to hear him this evening will be repaid by a genuine treat.

A Problem for Engineers and Mathematicians.—A correspondent wishes to know in tons the amount of pressure against a boat in a current of water rnnning at a rate of five miles per hour, the boat lying in the water with its end exposed to the current; the end of the boat being twenty-six feet across and drawing three feet, the whole boat being twenty-six feet by seventy feet. What is the amount of pressure by the current upon the boat? What is its equivalent in perpendicular weight?

History and Analysis of Laughter.—Professor Charles Lane, of the School of Technology, had a large audience at the Church of the Redeemer, last night, the church being well filled. He traced laughter from the time when the occasion of a man's laughing was so unfrequent as to cause remark when it occurred, down through its several stages and ages of development to the present time, and then gave an analysis of it as used properly and improperly.

The lecture was exceedingly instructive and interesting, and the well told stories illustrative of the prominent points made by the lecturer were received with convulsions of laughter by the audience.

SOCIETY GOSSIP.

The musical society held their fortnightly meeting last evening at the residence of Mrs. Samuel W. Goode, on Peachtree, and a most delightful entertainment was had. There was a full attendance. The following programme was rendered:

Piano solo—Miss Irene Farrar.
Vocal solo—Miss Prather.
Piano solo—Miss Clio Prather.
Vocal solo—Mrs. W. L. Peel.
Piano solo—Mrs. W. A. Richards.
Vocal solo—Miss Farrar.
Piano solo—Miss Gerdine.
Vocal solo—Mr. Bosard.
Piano solo—Miss Dadie Goode.
Vocal duet—Mrs. W. L. Peel and Miss Prather.

The next meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Peel, on Peachtree.

***

At Concordia hall last night there was a dance given complimentary to several visiting young ladies by Misses Madalaine Cerf, Bertha Liebermann, Clara Rosenfeld and Natalie Metzger.

During the evening refreshments were served. The diningroom and hall were most tastily decorated with tropical plants and flowers. The ball was in every detail a great success.

***

Miss Minnie Turner, a charming young lady of Conyers, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Captain Stovall, at No. 35 Cooper street.

***

Mrs. Captain S. C. Stovall, who has been visiting friends and relatives at Charlotte, N. C., and other points along the Piedmont Air-Line, has returned home after spending a pleasant time.

***

Miss Lizzie Bockover, of Norfolk, Va., returned to her home yesterday morning, after a visit of several months at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. B. Toy. It is thought that a certain down-town business man will be able to give some attention to his business since Miss Bockover's departure.

***

No lover of good literature and fine art will miss Professor Sternberg's lecture on music, which will be given on Thursday evening at the Church of Our Father, on Church street. Those who heard his lecture on Wagner, given before the Literature and Art circle last winter, will have an idea of the masterly treatment which Professor Sternberg will give his theme. The lecture will be illustrated with musical instruments. The subject will be treated scientifically as well as popularly. The lecture has never been delivered before, and is full of suggestions and information. It will be followed next week with a lecture by Mr. Chaney on Samoa and Hawaii. Tickets to the two lectures may be had at Miller's book store, or at the door.

***

All the dancing set of society are looking forward with pleasure to the Nine O'clock german at the Kimball this evening.

***

Mr. and Mrs. John Fitten gave an elegant tea last evening in honor of Mrs. Robertson, of New York, and Captain Henry Jackson. The house was brilliantly illuminated and adorned with flowers. The table's center piece was a bank of daffodils and ferns and the tapirs in silver candelabras were yellow with yellow shades. The elaborate menu was delicious and most daintily served. Those present were: Mrs. Robertson and Captain Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Lod Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert [illegible], Major and Mrs. Livingston Mims, Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke.

***

The tea to be given to Mrs. Robertson this evening by Major and Mrs. Mims will be a delightful affair. The hours are from eight to eleven o'clock.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

The pig iron market at Glasgow is depressed.

The colored men's convention began its session in Washington yesterday.

John M. Gibson, proprietor of the Gibson distillery, Lexington, Va., is dead.

Another ballot for speaker was taken in the Iowa legislature yesterday without result.

Rev. S. R. Frasier, a well-known Presbyterian preacher at Youngstown, O., has become insane.

The Paris Rouvier announces that the total government revenue for 1889 was $614,200,000 and total expenditures, $621,400,000

The Frankfort police have prohibited the meeting of German liberals announced to be held there and at which Eugene Richter was to speak.

The supreme court of the United States yesterday rendered an opinion affirming the constitutionality of the Edmunds-Tucker Idaho test oath intended to prevent the Mormons from voting.

James G. West, at one time president of the Chicago Times company, has been denied a new trial on the charge of overissue of stock, and will have to serve his sentence—five years in the penitentiary.

SECRETARY OF STATE.

GEN. PHIL COOK APPOINTED TO SUCCEED COL. BARNETT.

Col. Barnett Approves Gov. Gordon's Choice, and Requests that the Appointment be Made Before His Death—Gen. Cook's Life.

General Phillip Cook has been appointed by Governor Gordon to be secretary of state.

Hardly had the news of Colonel Barnett's death spread through the country than the executive office was flooded with telegrams from every county in the state advocating the claims of some aspirant for the office.

All the requests came too late, however, because Govornor Gordon, after seeing Colonel Barnett and consulting with him Saturday on the subject, decided on appointing General Cook, and immediately offered him the position by mail.

Early yesterday the following reply was received:

February 3, 1890.

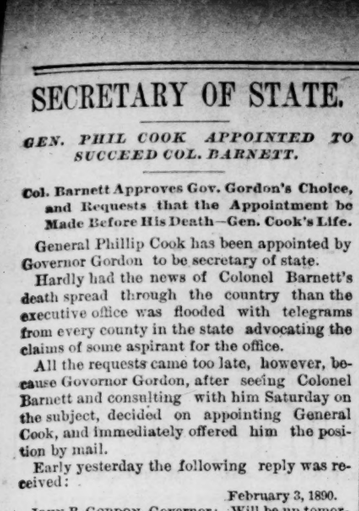
JOHN B. GORDON, Governor: Will be up tomorrow night. PHILLIP COOK.

This was considered a virtual acceptance of the office, as General Cook would not have announced his intention of coming to Atlanta had he not intended becoming secretary of state.

When Colonel Barnett requested Governor Gordon to call on him Saturday, one of his principal objects was to ascertain his intentions as to appointing a successor to himself.

During the conversation he told Governor Gordon that he felt assured that he could not live more than a few hours, and he wanted to know who would occupy the position he had filled so long. The governor used every effort to persuade Colonel Barnett that he would recover, and would soon be able to resume his duties.

All his arguments, however, were in vain. The sick man insisted that his time had come, and he would never recover. Governor Gordon then told him that he intended, should the necessity for such action on his part arise, to appoint General Phil Cook.



The choice met with Colonel Barnett's entire approval. He said that no one could be found whom he would rather have occupy the place, and he further requested Governor Gordon to tender the position to him at once, in order that he might feel sure of his consent before his death. It was because of this request that Governor Gordon wrote the letter mentioned above, on Saturday.

The veterans of the war delight to call their former commander by the name he earned on the battle field. To the older generation he is still "The Old War Horse."

General Cook comes of a military family. His father was a major in the Eighth United States Infantry, and was stationed during the year 1812 at Fort Hawkins, near Macon. He became infatuated with the southern country and purchased a plantation in Twiggs county, where, in the year 1817, the new secretary of state was born.

The future general and politician passed the early years of his life on his father's plantation. He was then sent to the Oglethorpe university in Georgia, and at the age of sixteen he became a student at the university of Virginia. He had passed four years there and was just completing his study of the law when he was called home by the death of his father.

In 1840 he commenced the practice of the law in Forsyth county with Hon. Zack Harmon as his partner. At the end of three years he had built up a thriving practice and he decided to retire from active life, so he purchased a farm in Sumter county. He was not, however, allowed to long enjoy his quiet life. He was elected in 1847 to represent his county in the state senate, and he and General Lawton are now the only survivors of that body.

When the war of the confederacy was declared, he belonged to a military company in Macon county. Early in 1861, he went with his command to Augusta, and was there mustered into the confederate army by Governor Joseph E. Brown and Colonel Jack Jones. At that time there were twenty companies in Augusta, and they were organized into the Third Georgia regiment, under command of Colonel Ranse Wright, and the Fourth Georgia regiment under Colonel Dales. By the division of the companies, General Cook became a member of the Fourth regiment. The command was ordered at once to Norfolk, Va., and General Cook rose rapidly to the office of adjutant of his regiment.

At the seven days' fight about Richmond he displayed great personal courage, and when Colonel Doles was promoted to the rank of general, Adjutant Cook was recommended by every officer, save one, to the leadership of the regiment.

General Doles was killed at the battle of Manassas, and Colonel Cook was recommended by Generals Early, Rhodes and others for promotion. He was accordingly appointed brigadier-general.

During the war General Cook was several times seriously wounded. At the battle of Malvern Hill he received a bad wound through the body. At Chancellorsville a bullet struck his leg and injured it so badly that several doctors insisted on amputation. Two doctors, however, claimed that the limb might be saved, and they successfully treated the wound, saving both the leg and the life of their patient.

At the battle of Petersburg he was again woundec and was left on the field, where, later in the day, he was captured. He was kept in a northern prison from that time until the last day of July, 1865, when he was released on parole.

After the war General Cook resumed the practice of the law, and he was elected to the thirty-ninth congress. He was not, however, allowed to take his seat, owing to the part he had taken in the war. Under the amnesty act of 1872 his disabilities were removed and he was re-elected to serve in the 43d congress. He afterwards served with distinction in the 44th, 45th, 46th and 47th congresses, Mr. Crisp, the present representative, beating him for the 48th congress.

General Cook is now in his 73d year, and he will doubtless hold the position of secretary of state for many years, as no opposition will probably be made to his continuance in office at the election next fall.

Owing to the necessary business of the office the governor found it impossible yesterday to leave the position of secretary of state vacant until General Cook's arrival. He therefore appointed Judge James T. Nisbet to act during the interval.

THE PETERS LAND CO.

THE RICHARD PETERS ESTATE RESOLVED INTO A SYNDICATE.

One of the Most Important Real Estate Transactions of the Year—Officers Elected.

Here is one of the most important real estate transactions that has been made in Atlanta for some time.

It is the organization of the Peters Land company—a consolidation of the Richard Peters estate for the purpose of placing it more advantageously upon the market—and all the papers were signed yesterday morning.

The value of the the Peters estate, all of which, even to that part which was set aside for Mrs. Richard Peters, by giving her a life interest in it, is embraced in the syndicate. A great deal of the property has long been sought after, but the executors have withheld it from the market until such time as it could be disposed of to the best advantage.

Mr. E. C. Peters is president of the Peters Land company, Mr. Richard Peters vice-president and Mr. Quintard Peters secretary. The capital stock is put at $100,000, though the property is worth many times that amount.

All the Peters Park Improvement company property is also included in the land company, the executors having bought in all the outstanding stock of that company.

Streets will at once be opened through that portion of the property lying in the suburbs. Lots will be laid off and offered to the public. A great deal of the property lies out on West Peachtree street, Ponce de Leon circle and North avenue. It is situated beautifully, and already applications for lots have been received by a number of well-known citizens, who contemplate the erection of homes.

Judge John L. Hopkins has been engaged in working up the papers for the deal for several weeks. A very valuable lot of central property is embraced in the consolidation. It is the block at the corner of Peachtree and Wall streets, in which Mrs. Sarah Jane Peters, the widow of the late Richard Peters, had a life interest, as well as in certain other property also. This, which was one-eighth of the estate, at her death was to revert to the children, the other heirs. For a consideration of $125,000 in stocks, Mrs. Peters conveys this property to the Peters Land company, forfeiting any and all claims to it, except such as she has by virtue of being a stockholder in the company. Mr. E. C. Peters said yesterday, however, that this central property would not be put on the market, as it is intended to do with the other.

The stockholders of the Peters Land company all of whom are members of the Peters family, are Mrs. Mary Jane Peters, Mrs. Mary Ellen Black, Mrs. Annie May Atkinson, Mr. Richard Peters, Mr. Ralph Peters, Mr. E. C. Peters, Mr. C. Q. Peters and Kitty C. Peters, by Mrs. Mary Jane Peters, J. W. Culpepper and E. C. Peters, trustees.

In brief, the land company's property takes in the following: The two story brick block at the corner of Peachtree and Wall streets, eleven acres partly fronting on West Peachtree street, a large tract on Ponce de Leon avenue running back toward Piedmont park, another large tract on North avenue, the Peters park property, which takes in all of land lot No. 80, except that portion occupied by the Technological school and a lot 60x175 fronting on West Peachtree.

Land lots 241, 265, 276, 339, 266, 238, and 269, each containing 160 acres, in Gordan county, are also included in the Peter Land company's property. Also the Peters' Stock farm about two miles from Calhoun, of about 200 acres.

The consolidation of all this property into a syndicate, makes one of the largest of the kind in Atlanta.

TWO CARS COLLIDE.

An Electric Car Runs Into One of the Peachtree Cars.

One of the Peachtree street horse-cars was considerably smashed up early yesterday morning by being run into by an electric car.

Although the passengers on both cars were badly frightened, nobody was injured and no damage was done that can not be easily set right.

Both the motorman on the electric car and the driver of the horse-car, acquit themselves of blame. The facts are that the horse-car was coming down Peachtree street just as the electric car was approaching the corner of North Pryor and Houston streets. The electric car came to a halt at the corner, and when Conductor Martin rang to go on, Motor Man W. W. Campbell rang his gong several times to let the people on Peachtree street know that he was coming. The driver of the horse car took in the situation, but he failed to make a stop, and endeavored to pass in front of the electric car, and the crash ensued. Later in the day the matter was compromised between the two companies by the payment of a small sum by Mntor Man Campbell.

THE MINISTERS MEET,

But After Passing Resolutions of Condolence with Dr. Barnett Adjourned.

Yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the Evangelical association meet at the First Methodist church with Dr. McDonald in the chair, and without a secretary, Dr. Cleveland being absent.

After hearing a request from Mrs. Frances C. Cusack for co-operation from the ministers to aid her in giving a lecture here next week, a committee composed of Dr. Heidt, Dr. McDonald and Dr. A. G. Thomas were appointed to bring in resolutions of condolence with Dr. Barnett, on the death of his son, Willie.

On motion, the association then adjourned to attend the funeral of little Willie Barnett in a body.

THE MASONIC TEMPLE.

The Report Upon the New Temple Has Been Indorsed by a Majority of the Lodges.

At a meeting of Cœur de Lion commandery last night the report of the committee on the Masonic temple was submitted, and was unanimously adopted.

The Mystic Shrine also held a meeting last night, and adopted the same plan.

The other Masonic bodies who have already held meetings, and have decided that a new building is absolutely necessary, are the Gate City lodge, F. and A. M., Atlanta lodge, F. and A. M., and Mount Zion chapter, R. A. M.

The prospects are that Atlanta will soon have one of the finest Masonic temples in the south.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITOL.

The railroad commission held an informal meeting yesterday morning. The only matter outside of the regular routine work which came up for consideration, was an application from Cave Springs, requesting that a depot be located there. The law requires that thirty days' notice shall be given when a new depot is to be located, and the case was accordingly set for March 30th, when it will be heard.

HAS GONE TO GRIFFIN,

Commissioner of Agriculture Henderson left for Griffin yesterday, where he will attend the quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the experimental station. The board has some business of importance, connected with the new buildings which are being erected, to consider.

MILITARY MATTERS.

Adjutant-General Kell signed commissions for the following officers: T. J. Brook, captain; Robert S. Mell, first lieutenant; and Robert S. Lovell, second lieutenant, of the Savannah Cadets. Captain M. P. Spence, of the Atlanta Rifles, was ordered to examine J. A. White for the position of first lieutenant, and George Frey for second lieutenant of the Atlanta Zouaves. General Kell also ordered Captain E. P. Miller, who has been elected lieutenant-colonel of the 1st Georgia regiment of cavalry, with P. W. Meldrim and Captain T. S. Wylie, Jr., who have been elected respectively first and second majors of the same regiment, to report to Colonel William Gerard, of the 3rd Georgia battalion, for examination.

Coal Dealers, Read.

The fixtures, including office; large, new, iron safe; three desks; one stove; stables, over 150 feet long; set best platform scales; side-tracks; fencing; water meter, and five years' lease on 97 West Peters street for sale. This is by far the best location in or around Atlanta for coal, lumber or any other business, and is the yard occupied for six years by John T. Stocks. I am authorized to offer this outfit for sale, and will receive bids for same (sealed) until February 10, 1890. Rent is $50 per month until October 1, 1890. Then $60 per month for balance five years. Owner reserving right to build on Peter street front at any time. I reserve the right to reject any or all bids. Terms cash.

AT WORK IN EARNEST.

The Piedmont Exposition Directors Meet and Transact Important Business.

The board of directors of the Piedmont Exposition company held a meeting yesterday at their new offices, in the Traders' bank building.

Although the session was short, there was a great deal of important business transacted. Secretary Arnold reported to the board that so much interest was being manifested in the next exposition, and that so many applications for space were being received, that it was deemed advisable to immediately select the committees who will have charge of the different departments.

In accordance with the general sentiment, an executive board was chosen, and also eighteen committees were formed, composed of nearly one hundred names.

It was also suggested that it would be greatly to the benefit of the company if the land which is owned and not utilized by the exposition company could be sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of the remainder of the debt.

After the subject had been thoroughly discussed, President Wylie was authorized to call a meeting of the stockholders at a date to be chosen by himself during the next ten days, for the purpose of submitting the proposition to their judgment.

Should the stockholders be of the same mind as the board of directors, the land will be immediately placed on the market.

The directors adjourned to meet again on the first Monday in March. During that time the different committees will meet and organize for work.

"Purity—Strength—Perfection."

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR Baking Powder.

ABSOLUTELY THE BEST.

All the ingredients used in making this powder are published on every label. The purity of the ingredients and the scientific accuracy with which they are combined render Cleveland's superior in strength and efficiency to any other baking powder manufactured.

Food raised with this powder does not dry up, as when made with baking powder containing ammonia, but keeps moist and sweet, and is palatable and wholesome. Hot biscuit and griddle cakes made with it can be eaten by dyspeptics with impunity.

It does not contain ammonia, alum, lime or other adulterants. These facts are vouched for by Government and State Chemists, Boards of Health, and eminent scientists.

THE STOCK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, February 3.—The stock market was weak today almost from the start, and while there was only a moderate volume of business, the declines scored in some stocks were large and everything traded in, with a few unimportant exceptions, is larger this evening. The opening was marked by a firm tone, though there was no special feature outside of the Pacific Mail, which was advanced again by the Rufus Hatch party to the best figures yet attained, but notwithstanding the repeated assertions that the movement was based on the merits of the property only and not upon hopes, the stock was unable to hold its advantage and sank away 1½ per cent from its best figure. The bears received some encouragement from the continued weakness of Chicago and East Illinois stocks, and although the Flower party denied having sold any of their stock and were openly advising holders not to part with their shares, there was marked lack of buying orders brought out by the decline.

The weakness in Chicago and East Illinois checked the improving tendency in the general list, but it was not until the bear attacks upon Rock Island that the decline extended to the general list. The Chicago party joined forces with the bears, and the Grangers were all attacked, but without special effect until the issue of the statement of the earnings of St. Paul for December with its decrease of $71,000, when everything gave way more freely, and in Grangers material losses were sustained.

Sugar refineries sympathized closely with this movement, but attracted little attention. Chicago and East Illinois stocks rallied partially, but the rally had no apparent effect upon the rest of the market, and the downward movement was continued right up to the close, which was weak at the lowest prices. Coalers were active, but well held throughout, as was also New England.

Final changes of importance include Chicago and East Illinois preferred 4, common 1¼, sugar 2⅝, Rock Island 2⅝, Northwestern 1⅝. Colorado Coal, Burlington and Quincy, St. Paul and National lead one per cent each. Sales 214,000 shares listed and 40,000 unlisted.

Exchange quiet but firm at 484½@488½.

Money easy at 3@6.

Subtreasury balances: Coin $162,498,000; currency, $6,231,000.

Governments dull and weak for 4s; 4s 123; 4½s 104½.

State bonds dull but steady.

Henry Clews & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, February 3—[Special.]—It would seem to the most conservating operator in the trade that, with an easier Liverpool market today, with declines of 2-64d in futures and 1-16d in spot cotton, coupled with a still easier tone to the southern markets and free port receipts, prices in this market would have scored a much lower range today and closed easy on New Orleans receipts for tomorrow being estimated at 12,000 bales, but the market ruled very steady in the latter trading, and closed firm at an advance of 10 points from the lowest, and showed a net gain of 6@7 points over Saturday's prices. Facts and figures thus carried little weight in deciding the course of today's market. It was governed by sentiment more than anything else. The shorts got into their heads to close out their contracts, and this, with a little outside buying, coupled with manipulations by the bull element, was what caused the advance. There is no telling how the sentiment will run tomorrow, so it would be useless to advance an opinion relative to the course of the market for the immediate future. Spot cotton here ruled quiet and steady at unchanged prices with small sales, while of the southern markets, which were generally dull, Mobile and Memphis were ⅛c and Galveston 1-16c lower. HENRY CLEWS & CO.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, February 3—[Special.]—The cotton market continues an active one, although the net change in fluctuations is small, and we detect no significant revulsion of general sentiment. Last Saturday evening the overland movement, as made up by the New Orleans cotton exchange to the first instant, reached us by wire, the figures being as follows: Overland movement for January 162,000 bales, as compared with 113,000 bales last year. Crop in sight to the first instant 6,243,000 bales, as compared with 5,770,000 bales last year. The figures were far in excess of anticipation, and as soon as they became known here this morning resulted in a decidedly easier market, August delivery declining nearly 10 points as compared with Saturday's close, and a still greater recession in values being only prevented by the strength with which the near deliveries were held, and it is to this latter feature that the reaction, under the impulse of which the market closes, was established. Port receipts continue full, and thus far justify the estimate of 150,000 bales made earlier in the week. The movement, as far as known, at the larger interior towns is full, and the southern markets generally somewhat easier. New Orleans receipts tomorrow are estimated at 11,000 bales, and it remains to be seen whether Liverpool will respond at all to the advices sent from here. If not, we shall doubtless see lower prices again tomorrow. The overland movement, as made up by the Financial Chronicle, will not be known until the end of the week. Should it confirm the New Orleans figures, the disposition to reduce crop estimates will undoubtedly be checked.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, February 3—A fairly good business was transacted in the wheat market today on speculative account. The opening was the same as the closing Saturday, advanced ¼@⅜c, receded to inside prices, ruled stronger and closed ⅜@½c higher than Saturday. There was good buying at inside prices, not from any particular sources, and at the top offerings were quite large—sufficiently so to prevent any further advance.

Corn was traded in to a fair extent, the market ruling active at times. The feeling developed was weaker, and transactions were again at lower prices. The chief weakening influence was a rumored cut in rates from Kansas and Nebraska points of 5@7c per 100 pounds, which has been anticipated by many for several days. Selling was quite general, receivers and warehousemen selling quite freely, as receipts are expected to increase. The rumor lacked confirmation.

Oats were fairly active, stronger and ⅛@¼c higher on deferred deliveries, on which trading centered. There was good buying of May by three large houses, and prices advanced to 22½@22⅝. At the top offerings increased, but the demand was sufficient to absorb them, and the market held steady until the close.

A moderately active trade was reported in the market for hog products with the interest mainly in pork. A report of the stock on hand showed an increase of 53 per cent in the aggregate supply, and this was regarded as a weak feature. On the other hand, the receipts of hogs were smaller than generally anticipated with prices higher for the best grades, and this checked offerings to some extent. Trading was chiefly in May. Transactions were moderate.

Sale of Pledged Stock.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT ON Friday, February 14th, 1890, at 11 o'clock a. m., before the courthouse door, Fulton county, Georgia, there will be sold at public outcry to the highest bidder, fifty-six (56) shares of one hundred dollars each of the capital stock of the St. Clair Coal company, same being now held in pledge by Perry M. DeLeon to secure the payment of five thousand dollars principal, with interest from December 1st, 1888, at 7 per cent per annum, which sum fell due and became payable on December 1st, 1889, under the terms of a certain contract and bill of sale for 205 shares of said stock which Thomas H. Austin and A. D. Boylston bought of said Perry M. DeLeon on said December 1st, 1888. The above sum, with interest, is the last installment on the purchase price of said 205 shares under the terms of said contract, which amount is now due by and from said Thomas H. Austin and A. D. Boylston and unpaid. Notice given to them according to law.

All of said 56 shares, or so much thereof as may be necessary, will be sold as aforesaid and the proceeds thereof, after deducting the expenses of sale, applied to the payment of said indebtedness.

CARRIAGE BUILDERS.

THE ASSOCIATION HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING HERE TODAY.

An Exposition of Materials Used in Carriage Building—Quite a Large Attendance Expected.

A carriage builders exposition.

That's what the Southern Carriage Builders association will hold here today.

Quite a number of the members are in the city now, and others will come in today. They represent every city of importance in the state, and a number of cities in other southern states.

The business session will last two days, today and tomorrow, and the proceedings will close with a banquet.

AS TO THE EXHIBITS.

The purpose of the meeting is explained by the following circular letter from Secretary N. C. Spence, of Atlanta:

"At our last annual meeting it was unanimously resolved to hold an exhibition of all materials used in the manufacture of carriages, and a committee was appointed to solicit from manufacturers such as wheels, springs, axles, leathers, cloths, shafts, glues, paints, varnishes, bodies and all the various specialties we all use. That committee, J. W. Weltzell and G. L. Summers, have issued invitations to the various manufacturers to come or send in such goods. A hall has been engaged to make the display. Our object this year is to make our meeting instructive and interesting, and also to gather the different makers of carriages together to meet one another, and to know more of one another and increase the social part of our organization."

THE ASSOCIATION.

The association was organized in April 1880. It has active members now representing the cities of Atlanta, Hampton, Griffin, Barnesville; Meridian, Miss.; Forsyth, LaGrange, Flowery Branch, Elberton, Social Circle, Jacksonville, Ga.; Greenville, S. C.; Cartersville, Rome, Fairburn, Newnan, Americus, Dawson; Montgomery, Ala.; Madison, Birmingham, Ala.; Cincinnati, O.; New York, Louisville, Ky., and Baltimore.

The present officers are:
President, R. H. Jones, Cartersville, Ga.
Vice-president, G. W. Walker, Gainesville, Ga.
Vice-president, C. H. Osborn, Griffin, Ga.
Vice-president, George L. Summers, Barnesville, Ga.
Secretary, N. C. Spence, Atlanta, Ga.
Treasurer, J. A. Curtis, Atlanta, Ga.
Chaplain, A. P. Jones, LaGrange, Ga.

The exhibit will be an interesting one, and the public are invited to visit and inspect.

The details for the banquet have not yet been arranged, but it will probably be held at the Kimball tomorrow afternoon.

A NEW CRACKER FACTORY.

Mr. T. S. Lewis Erecting a Commodious Building on Loyd Street.

Ground has been broken for the erection of an extensive cracker manufacturing establishment at the corner of Mitchell and Loyd streets.

The new factory is being erected by Mr. T. S. Lewis, whose cracker factory is now on Alabama street.

It is already one of the largest cracker factories in the south. Mr. Lewis's business has increased so steadily and rapidly that the present factory will not accommodate it, and he found himself compelled to build in order to secure the proper facilities.

The new factory will be a three-story brick, with basement, 51x100 feet. It will be equipped with the most approved machinery, and will be one of the largest in the south. Mr. Lewis says he expects to be in his new quarters by the first of June, or possibly earlier.

Mr. Lewis began the cracker manufacturing business in Atlanta twenty years ago. His factory was then on Forsyth street, and later at 67 East Alabama street, gradually extending and enlarging its business, until the factory was moved into its present building on Alabama street, ten years ago, where it has remained ever since. The T. S. Lewis cracker factory is one of the most successful manufacturing houses in Atlanta. It was begun on a modest scale, but by industry and enterprise it has kept pace with the city, and is now the equal of any in the country.

Mr. Lewis sends goods all over the south from Virginia to Mississippi. A remarkable fact about his success is that he has achieved it wholly on crackers. The factory has never manufactured or added any other feature to its line, but has stuck to crackers, until the Lewis crackers as are famous as Atlanta herself.

Mercurial Poison.

Mercury is frequently injudiciously used by quack doctors in cases of malaria and blood poison Its after effect is worse than the original disease. B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) contains no mercury, but will eliminate mercurial poison from the system. Write to Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for book of convincing proofs of its curative virtue.

A. F. Britton, Jackson, Tenn., writes: "I caught malaria in Louisiana, and when the fever at last broke, my system was saturated with poison, and I had sores in my mouth and knots on my tongue. I got two bottles of B. B. B., which healed my tongue and mouth and made a new man of me."

William Richmond, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "My wife could hardly see. Doctors called it syphilitic iritis. Her eyes were in a dreadful condition. Her appetite failed. She had pains in her joints and bones. Her kidneys were deranged also, and no one thought she could be cured. Dr. Gillam recommended B. B. B., which she used until her health was entirely restored."

K. P. B. Jones, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was troubled with copper colored eruptions, loss of appetite, pain in back, aching joints, debility emaciation, loss of hair, sore throat, and great nervousness. B. B. B. put my system in fine condition." 1w

MEDICAL.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

SALESMAN—Yes, this is the stove you inquired for. As you say, it does not look exactly like the one your mother recommended you to buy, and which she thinks so much of, but it is a Charter Oak Range. We have the Cook Stoves of the same make but the Ranges are used more generally now, as they are more convenient. How long has your mother had her stove?

YOUNG MARRIED LADY—Oh! ever so long. She bought it when I was a baby, and has been using it ever since, and she told me I must get the same kind.

SALESMAN—Well, this is the same kind. That is, it is a Charter Oak, but you must remember that twenty years is a long time, and improvements have been made since your mother got hers. This Range has the wonderful Wire Gauze Oven Door, which you have probably heard of, as it is known and sold everywhere in connection with our Stoves and Ranges.

YOUNG MARRIED LADY—Oh! I remember now. She spoke about that, but I can't understand why that should make it so much better than our old stove, as that was as good as it could be.

SALESMAN—There is no doubt about its being much better; it is a wonderful improvement. It bakes everything so much nicer, and the meats are not dried up like they are in the old fashioned tight ovens. Why, a steak can be broiled in that oven as perfectly as over a charcoal fire, and the natural juices of the meat, which make it so appetizing, will all be retained. It is just the same with roast meats. Of course it is needless for me to speak of its other good qualities, as your mother's advice has made that unnecessary.

YOUNG MARRIED LADY—Well, of course, I will take it. Please have it put up as soon as you can, as we have no stove yet. We are just commencing housekeeping, you know.

$650—For central vacant lot, 40x100 feet to an alley, close in on Pratt street. Liberal terms.

Inman park lots are on our books for sale, and we will take pleasure in showing them to those who wish to purchase in this most desirable resident park.

$10,500—For 53x115 feet to a ten foot alley on Whitehall street close to Mitchell. The improvements on it rent for $480 a year. Very little of this class of property in the market, and you had best buy now while this low price will secure it.

$1,200—For high and level lot, 50x130 feet, on Hilliard street near Cain and immediately on the electric car line. On it are several very large and handsome oak trees, adding greatly to its value. The neighborhood is excellent, and the location not far out; can make very liberal terms. Samuel W. Goode & Co.

$1,650—For beautiful, level lot, 50x170 feet to an alley, on Spring street near Hunnicutt avenue. In front of it are the Baltimore syndicate houses. The street is paved and has on it water, gas and sewers. Liberal terms can be made. No such desirable lots on the north side at this price. Neighborhood unexcelled. Call and let us show you this gem.

$700—For vacant lot, 50x115 feet, one-half block from Cain street and very convenient to the electric car line. It is shaded with very large oaks and is the best vacant lot for the money. So close to the center of the city.

$2,500—For level lot, 70x175, on the Boulevard, east front. This is now the handsomest street in Atlanta, and property here will rapidly enhance in value. Every modern convenience on the street. Very reasonable terms. A small cash payment and balance in five years.

$2,500—For vacant lot, 25x126 feet on Marietta street near Harris, and running through to the railroad. A good piece of business property.

$550—For new 3-r. cottage on lot 50x100 feet, on East Fair street near the Boulevard. Is nicely finished and rents for $6 a month to good white tenant.

Peachtree street home, No. 201, ten-room two-story frame house, with all modern conveniences. It is between Harris and Baker sts. A location unsurpassed. Lot 50x200 feet with side alley. Price only $11,500.

$6,000 will buy the choicest piece of fground on West Peachtree street now on the market. It is on the top of the hill, lies level, and is 87x200 feet to an alley. The improvements on it rent for $18 a month. The ground alone will bring $75 a front foot in the spring. Buy now and get the benefit of the enhanced value.

$2,500—For a new 5-r. cottage on Hill street, just finished and never been occupied; high, level lot 50x148 feet to ten foot alley. Terms, one-third cash, balance one and two years eight per cent interest. A splendid home on easy terms. No better neighborhood in the city.

COLONEL BARNETT'S

REMAINS TAKEN TO MILLEDGEVILLE HIS FORMER HOME.

Marks of Care and Respect Which Were Shown by the Friends and by the State Officials—Reception of the Body.

The earthly remains of Colonel N. C. Barnett, Georgia's secretary of state, were taken to Milledgeville yesterday for interment.

According to the aged statesman's frequently expressed wish there was no long funeral procession or display. All the arrangements were of the simplest kind, and during the morning only his wife and his three children and some of his near relatives and dear friends were at the house.

The body was at an early hour placed in the parlor of his residence on Jones street, where those admitted were given a last opportunity too look on the face of the dead. There was little evidence of death in the face that rested peacefully under the glass. Colonel Barnett looked as though he were asleep, and there was not a trace left showing that he had suffered in his last moments.

Governor Gordon was among the first to call at the house, and after expressing his sympathy for the family and looking at the face of his dead friend for a few moments, he went to the capitol and issued the following proclamation:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT. ATLANTA, Ga., February 3, 1890.—It becomes my duty to announce the death of Hon. Nathan Crawford Barnett, whose name, as a public servant, has been familiar to the people of Georgia for half a century.

He departed this life at his residence in this city on Sunday, the 2d instant, at 4 o'clock p. m., having nearly completed his eighty-ninth year.

Colonel Barnett has held various offices of honor and trust, conferred upon him either by the legislature or by the people of Georgia. He has been the incumbent of the office of secretary of state continuously since 1873 besides holding the same office for many years before, during and after the war between the states. He was the secretary of state during the administration of Governor Charles J. Jenkins, and when the governor was deposed by the military power of the federal government Colonel Barnett went out with the governor, carrying with him the great seal of the state, of which he was the official custodian, and retained it in his possession as a sacred trust until the adoption of the constitution of 1868. He was always courteous, prompt, industrious, vigilant and intelligent in the discharge of his duties, but the crowning glory of his official life was his character—his unswerving fidelity to duty—his loyalty to truth and his unimpeached and unimpeachable integrity. In all the long years of his incumbency of public office, embracing, as they did, the most exciting political era in the history of the state and the most intense partisan bitterness, even his political opponents have never insinuated a doubt of his honesty.

I can say it reverently that he has earned the record which the sacred chronicle makes of the poet-warrior king of Israel: "He died in a good old age, full of days and honor;" and I would commend him to the young men of Georgia, who have the laudable ambition to serve her, as an exemplar worthy of their imitation.

In respect to the memory of the lamented deceased it is ordered that Hon. James S. Hook, state school commissioner; Hon. R. U. Hardeman, treasurer; Hon. W. A. Wright, comptroller-general; Colonel John Milledge, librarian, and Colonel John O. Waddell, assistant commissioner of agriculture, be and they are hereby appointed as an escort of honor to accompany the remains of Colonel Barnett to Milledgeville and attend his obsequies.

It is further ordered that, Tuesday, the 4th instant, being the day designated for the funeral, the executive offices be closed on that day.

By the governor,
J. B. GORDON, Governor.
JAMES T. NISBET, S. E. D.

Shortly before 2 o'clock all the state house officials met in the rotunda of the capitol and with the governor at their head, they left by the Washington street entrance to escort the body of Colonel Barnett to the railroad station. As the officials passed the entrance to Colonel Barnett's private office, which was heavily draped with black, they all seemed deeply affected.

When they reached the house, the family and friends were collected in the parlor and without any religious ceremony the casket was closed and taken to the hearse. Accompanied by the family in carriages and the official escort on foot the procession made its way slowly to the depot where a car was waiting to receive the coffin.

State School Commissioner Hook, Colonel John Milledge and Colonel Waddell went to Milledgeville as the official escort.

When the train reached Milledgeville it was met by an escort of citizens, and the body was taken immediately to the Methodist church, where it will lie in state until the funeral services, which will be held at 11 o'clock today, Rev. Dr. Glenn, officiating.

Does Advertising Pay.
The greatest cut ever made in fine furniture in Atlanta is probably the one recently made by Mr. P. H. Snook. His store is crowded with customers from morning till night, and hundreds of dollars worth is being sold daily. He has recently increased his force of salesmen and packers, and frequently does not finish up the days work until far into the night. His stock is simply immense, covering four large floors—40x250 feet—packed from floor to ceiling. This big cut is being made in order to reduce his stock before leaving for the eastern and western factories—we think advertising pays.

Virginia's Humorist.
Captain Wm. Page Carter, the Virginia humorest, will give recitations and readings of his own productions at the hall of the Y. M. C., on this evening at 8 o'clock.

At the lecture room of St. Lukes, on Friday evening last, the audience was delighted with his war pieces and dialect sketches. His manner was graceful and nicely adapted to the subjects reproduced, and his recitations were given in admirable style and with fine effect. Admission 50 cents, members free on presentation of membership tickets.

Fine Havana Cigars
We have lately increased our facilities and are prepared to supply the constantly growing demand of our fine Havana cigars. Both our large Coronas and the small size Coronas challenge the finest brands imported from Cuba.

Smokers should bear in mind distinctly that no fine Havana cigar is fit to smoke unless it is made by hand. Having an experience of twenty years in the business we can say the Spanish method of making cigars by hand is perfect; in fact, it is an art in the highest sense of the word.

In making recently our annual purchase of Havana leaf tobacco, we took particular pains to seclect just such qualities of leaf suited especially for this market, namely: a thin silky leaf; rich in color, not too light or too dark; mild and sweet in taste, coupled with that brilliancy of fragrance which is an exclusive property of the very best Cuban leaf tobacco. There is nothing bitter about this genuine Vuelta Ahaja leaf; it has not the slighest touch of rankness, and mark well, it does not make you dry in the throat neither does it bite your tongue when you smoke it.

Our cigars are for sale in all first-class drug stores, cigar stores, saloons and restaurants and the trade is supplied from the factory at No 2 Edgewood avenue, corner Peachtree street, by
A. L. CUESTA.

The Rainbow of Promise

From the store-house of Nature came by intuition a priceless boon to the human race, through which physical sufferers in untold thousands are made to rejoice in the restoration of health, and all the blessings, joys and pleasures thereunto pertaining. . . . . .

"IT HAS BEEN A BLESSING TO ME,"

Is the manner in which Mrs. M. A. Peeler, an estimable lady of Morgantown, N. C., expresses her appreciation of Swift's Specific. The following is an extract from her letter:

Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) has been a blessing to me. Afflicted with rheumatism and female weakness for a number of years, during which time I took a great deal of medicine, nothing giving me relief but Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) What I suffered and endured before commencing on Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) is painful to even think about; but after taking that medicine I got well, and have continued to enjoy the best health since. I cannot say more than I believe in the praise of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.)

CURED HER CHILD.

Two years ago scrofula appeared in the head of my little grandchild, then 18 months old After using a number of bottles of Swift's Specific the disease entirely disappeared.
